Area Delegation Will Ask State Funds For Lafayette By-Pass in Next Budget

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Allocation of 1955-56 fiscal year funds for Lafayette By-Pass construction will be urged at the August 25-26-27 meeting of the California Highway Commission in Sacramento by representatives of the Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek area, Director Ellot J. Hartman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation announced yesterday.

In the absence of Chairman Charles Nelson of Orinda, who was away on vacation, Hartman said that a delegation headed by Assemblyman Donald Doyle and including representatives of the federation and other interested groups will appear before the commission on the matter.

"THIS WILL BE the commission's last public meeting before it starts deliberations on allocations for the next fiscal year," Hartman explained.

"We feel that funds for Lafayette By-Pass are overdue and that, with Orinda Interchange scheduled for completion by next spring, early construction of Lafayette By-Pass, next logical step in the Diablo Freeway, should be provided for."

The delegation will include "most of the federation directors, as well as representatives of individual communities — Orinda, Lafayette, San Ramon," Hartman said.

"REPRESENTATIVES of Walnut Creek will participate in our presentation and will also present their own city problems," he added. "City Attorney John Nejedly and Secretary-Manager Vance Perry of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce will probably be in the Walnut Creek group."

Perry yesterday confirmed that time for appearance of Walnut Creek representatives had been arranged last week when a Walnut Creek delegation met in Sacramento with highway officials on city traffic problems.

HARTMAN SAID he is contacting the Lafayette Improvement Association, the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce and the Lafayette Rotary Club, "asking them for facts and figures and for their ideas on the freeway needs of Lafayette, so that these can be used in our presentation."

He stated that Doyle will address the commission as the legislative representative of the 10th Assembly District and that Nelson, with his (Hartman's) assistance, will make the presentation for the Highway Federation.

In addition, representatives of other interested organizations may address the commission, Hartman added.

"Exact date of our appearance hasn't yet been arranged," he said, "but it will be on August 25, 26 or 27."

Final plans for the presentation will be discussed at the next federation board meeting August 17, Hartman said.

DECISION TO PRESS for allocation of Lafayette By-Pass funds was made by the federation board at its meeting last week at the home of Frank Shreve in Pleasant Hill.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Doyle, who stated he believed this to be the "proper time" to urge the Highway Commission to allocate the funds.

Directors pointed out that Highway Commission budgeting has followed the practice of alternating major allocations between the Central Contra Costa County area and the Highway 40 area.

THEY RECALLED that three years ago the Highway 40 area received the bulk of allocation in the county, two years ago it was the

New Water Main Progresses on Camino Sobrante

East Bay Municipal Utility District crews were at work this week on the second phase of installing a new 16-inch-diameter water main along Camino Sobrante in Orinda, according to Thomas S. Neilson, EBMUD director.

Because of the narrowness of Camino Sobrante between La Noria and Lake Cascade, it has been necessary to close this portion of the street between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. for several days.

It is planned to have the work on this portion of Camino Sobrante completed by today.

"SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS have been made to accommodate the residents along this section of Camino Sobrante.

"Signs, arrows and flagmen have been placed at the intersections of detour routes in order to direct motorists," Neilson said.

THE NEW 16-inch line will connect with the proposed new one-million-gallon concrete Las Aromas Reservoir, which will be located near the present Las Aromas Tank.

"The rapid growth in Orinda and vicinity has made this improvement to the district's water distribution system necessary. We regret any inconvenience caused by this work. The EBMUD is doing everything possible to reduce the inconvenience to a minimum," Neilson stated.

Zoning Board OK's Side Yards

Land use permits were granted by the County Board of Zoning Adjustment Tuesday night to:

1. R. D. McBane for a 5-foot side yard for addition to residence on a portion of Lot 2, Orinda Villa Park, fronting approximately 110 feet on the west side of Marston Road, just north of the intersection of Monte Vista Road and bounded on the south by Brose property and on the north by Dennison property.

2. Victor Traverso for 10-foot side yards and 20-foot setback for residence on Lot 95, Moraga Meadows Unit 3, fronting 110 feet on the east side of Daryl Drive, about 250 feet

Civic Affairs Skips July Meet

The weather was agreeable for a meeting to be held on the lawn, but the half-dozen members of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee who gathered at Orinda School Monday night agreed, after finding the school door locked and no caretaker around, that they had no particular business to bring up.

So, after about 20 minutes of informal conversation, Chairman Tevis Thompson and the others decided to skip the scheduled July meeting of Civic Affairs.

"This is great," Thompson said, sounding as if he really meant it. "My wife was starting to wax the floors when I left home, and I'll get back in time to help her."

Listen for CD Sirens, Then Rport

Contra Costa's Civil Defense sirens will wail Monday morning in a regular monthly test, and citizens are asked to pay special attention to them, by George Burton, Assistant County Civil Defense Director.

The local headquarters wants the public to notice the siren test for two reasons, Burton explained — to discover if there are any spots where the sirens are not heard loud enough, and to make everyone familiar with the signals' sound.

The sirens are tested throughout the state at 10 a.m. the last Monday of each month, the C.D. official noted.

The public could tell the difference between the test and "the real thing," Burton said, because the test warning is at percisely 10 a.m. and is always followed immediately by the all-clear signal.

The siren warning is an up-and-down wailing note lasting for three minutes. The all-clear is three steady one minute blasts, with two minutes silence between.

Asking the public to help the county make sure its warning sirens are efficient, Burton urged that all who hear — or don't hear — the test at 10 a.m. Monday fill out the form, attach it to a post card, and mail it to the Contra Costa County Civil Defense Office, 2130 Arnold Highway, Martinez.

Polio Cases Up, But No Cause for Worry says Blum

In spite of an increasing incidence of polio cases in the Walnut Creek - Lafayette - Orinda - Pleasant Hill area, Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, stated that there is no cause for alarm.

Total cases in the county this year are 96 as of yesterday morning, compared with a total of 33 at this time last year.

In Orinda, Walnut Creek and Lafayette, and the surrounding areas, 26 cases have been reported. Eight of these cases were in Orinda and none have been reported in Lafayette. These totals are from January 1.

The Concord-Pleasant Hill area has the highest total of any area in the county with 32 cases reported to date.

DR. BLUM EXPLAINED that "We know a great deal more about polio this year than we did last year," and that through newly-gained knowledge, doctors are now diagnosing cases as polio where previously patients were sent home.

"We are not alarmed," he said. "Polio is a common and prevalent disease and the bulk of the cases is no more severe than last year."

DR. BLUM SAID he didn't know if the polio "season" is arriving earlier this year, but said he felt that the total number of cases for the year would fall in line with past years. The season usually starts in September.

Emergency Polio Fund Drive to Start Aug. 16

Preliminary plans for the emergency March of Dimes were laid at the regular monthly meeting of the Contra Costa County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis executive committee.

The March of Dimes is to be held August 16 to 31. Coin cards will be mailed and a "Parents' March" held during the last week of the campaign. No coin containers will be distributed for this drive.

The necessity of the emergency fund drive is due to the tremendous expenditures on Polio vacine tests as well as a very high incidence rate throughout the nation so far this year.

MRS. ALLINE MACOMBER, executive secretary for the Contra Costa County Chapter, reported that this county has 85 new cases of polio to date as compared to 89 cases which were assisted for the entire year of 1953.

In Contra Costa County, the so called "Polio Season" usually begins in August. It may be expected that this Chapter will have twice as many cases requiring financial assistance as last year.

AS AN EXAMPLE of the high cost of polio care, $1038 per week is being paid special nurses for four respirator patients, in addition to standard hospital rates. Physical therapy, braces and surgery are still being furnished polio patients of previous years at a cost to the Chapter of about $10,000 per month.

Anyone wishing to volunteer for the March of Dimes is asked to contact their area chairman, in most cases, the same as last year, or call Chapter Headquarters, 1251 Escobar Street, Martinez, phone Martinez 327.

Grand Jury Sets New Meeting Time

A new meeting time was set by the 1954-55 Contra Costa County Grand Jury as it met in organization session last week in Martinez.

Though previous Grand Juries have met Tuesday evenings, the new group will meet Tuesday afternoons unless there is some emergency, Foreman Robert B. Claxton announced.

MRS. CORINNE BUCK of 1661 Ramona Way, Walnut Creek was named secretary by Claxton. A past president of the Alamo Mothers Club, she is the daughter-in-law of Congressman Frank H. Buck of Vacaville and the wife of publisher Frank H. Buck Jr.

Chairmen of the Grand Jury's 10 standing committees are:

Law enforcement, Armand Monlux, Walnut Creek; highways and roads, William S. Davis, Richmond; juvenile and probation, Ralph Huffman, Martinez; agricultural and airport, Walter H. Bonde, Byron.

AUDIT AND finance, Max E. Weyer, El Cerrito; hospitals, clinics and sanitation, Mrs. Margaret Huguet, Martinez; social welfare, Mrs. Evelyn G. McLuaghlin, El Cerrito; purchasing, supplies and insurance, Jack Kilcrease, San Pablo; public buildings, Ralph Goodwin, Richmond; education Forrest B. Routt, Martinez.

Other members of the new Grand Jury are Harold E. Hallenbeck, Lafayette; Margaret E. Allyn, Richmond; Michael A. Horan, Pittsburg; Ralph M. Beede and Lawrence W. Mehaffey, Antioch; Mae A. Joseph, Rodeo and Preston Moses, Crockett.

Planners Give New Population Estimate to 1990

Making a study independent of other agencies, the Contra Costa County Planning Commission has come up with a 1960 population prediction of 493,000. It fixes the county's current population as 362,000, less than the 369,000 attributed to Contra Costa in a postal survey.

The population predictions, prepared by the advanced planning section of the commission, carry through 1990.

High and low figures estimated on a decade basis follow: 1970 — low, 679,334; high, 729,334. 1980 — low, 831,636; high, 982,436. 1990 — low, 1,021,831; high, 1,241,555.

"IT IS ESTIMATED that Contra Costa County will hit the million mark in about 35 years. The figures made available to the commission by the study will figure most prominently in broad commission policies," Planning Director Thomas Heaton commented.

The commission estimate for 1960 is approximately 48,000 more than the 1960 prediction of Dr. William A. Spurr of the Stanford Graduate School, who made an estimate of 445,000. Spurr's forecast, however, was made prior to plans for the new city of Moraga and prior to several other large residential developments and industrial programs.

THE STAFF IS NOW engaged in a detailed study that will break down the prediction to townships and other minor civil divisions.

"This will afford highly important data to the commission," Chairman J. P. Connors declared.

Word Awaited on Lucky's Reaction To Parking Plan

Word is being awaited from Lucky Stores Inc. on the firm's reaction to the Orinda Chamber of Commerce's plan for parking facilities adjacent to the proposed Lucky Store on the west side of Moraga Highway next to Sprouse-Reitz Company, Vice-President D. A. Breed of Broadmoor Improvement Company, said yesterday.

Breed reported he had received a letter from the chamber committee consisting of Clarence Betz, George Dodge and John Ogden and that he had forwarded the letter to Lucky Stores, Inc.

"I should be hearing from the firm any day now," he stated.

THE CHAMBER LETTER, authorized at last week's chamber meeting, accepted Broadmoor's plan for a parking lot next to the proposed food market, providing the parking lot be available for community use as well as for use by Lucky Store customers.

Broadmoor Company has informed the chamber that it is willing to resurface another parking lot, a triangular one next to the contemplated Lucky parking lot, if the chamber permits its use by Lucky Store customers as well as the general public.

"THUS TWO PARKING areas, next to each other, are involved," Breed explained. "If agreement is reached, both lots could be used by customers of the store and by the community."

The triangular lot is leased by the chamber from Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Broadmoor owns the land where the new Lucky Store is planned, and negotiations between Broadmoor and Lucky have been under way for some time for establishment of a new food market on the property, across from Black's Market.

70 Lions Hold Joint Meeting

More than 70 happy Lafayette and Orinda Lions gathered at the Orinda Willows July 14 to celebrate the 15th anniversary of Lionism in the area.

Ray Dittmeyer, new president of the Lafayette Lions, and Bart McMahon, new president of the Orinda group, presided.

A 15-year membership pin was awarded to Lou Borghesani, a charter member in the Lafayette group.

It was the first time the Orinda group had met at its new "hangout," The Willows, and the first meeting at which new officers presided.

Pinball Machines Continue as Legal One-Coin Variety

Illegal multiple-play pinball machines that were operating in Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda three weeks ago remained shut down for the second consecutive week.

However, illegal claw machines continued to grab nickels throughout the area with little immediate prospect of their being shut down in sight.

The claw machines pay off with tin horses and other merchandise which is usually redeemable at the rate of $1 per item at the bar.

The pinball machines are exactly the same ones that were illegal recently. However, by a minor adjustment they have been converted into machines that take only a single coin.

Allen Kills Rattler At Office Door

Stanley A. Allen of 76 Orchard Road, Orinda, has the distinction of being probably the only Sprouse-Reitz Company district manager to have killed a rattlesnake at the door of his office.

Last week Allen approached the summer office he had constructed about 100 yards from the Allens' home on their 160-acre ranch at Coarsegold and saw a good-sized rattler, sporting six or seven rattles, lying on the ground in front of the office door.

He called to his children, Susan, 14, and Dick, 11, who brought him a shovel. With the shovel Allen hacked the snake to bits.

Mrs. Allen was in the office while all this happened.

The Allens will remain at their ranch until school starts in September, when Susan will resume her studies at Anna Head School in Berkeley and Dick will enter sixth grade at Glorietta School.

Coresgoald is in Madera County, near the southern entrance to Yosemite.

Allen's territory as district manager extends from the Bay Area to south of Fresno. His regular office is at the Sprouse-Reitz store at 64 Moraga Highway, Orinda.

Car-Pool Drive Gains Momentum; More Commuters Seek, Offer Rides to Work

Car pools and use of Greyhound buses continued to be favorite topics of Central Contra Costa County commuters this week as more commuters sent coupons to The SUN, seeking rides and offering rides.

These filled-out coupons, added to those listed in this paper last week, furnished proof that the joint campaign of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association and The SUN meets a real need.

(See editorial, back page.)

"ACTUALLY, THE CAMPAIGN should accomplish two main results," President John E. McKirahan of the Commuters Association said. "These are: Helping get commuters to and from work more speedily, conveniently and cheaply; and relieving the congestion on Mt. Diablo Boulevard during peak commute hours."

Commuters who sent in coupons this week include:

ARMAND E. WERLE, 22 Bonita Court, Walnut Creek, phone: YEllowstone 5-5966 — wants ride and can give ride; commutes to 14th and East Washington, Oakland; leaves Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Bonita Lane, Walnut Creek, at 7 a. m.; must arrive at destination at 8 a. m.; starts back for home 5 p. m. from 14th and East Washington, Oakland.

MRS. CYNTHIA MITCHELL, 3483 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette, phone: ATlantic 3-3785 — wants ride and can give ride; commuters to 45th and San Leandro, Oakland; leaves Moraga Road or Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, 7:45 a. m.; must arrive at destination 8:30 a. m.; starts back for home 5 p. m. from 45th and San Leandro, Oakland.

PEGGY THOMPSON, Box 6, Lafayette, phone: ATlantic 3-2049 or HIghgate 4-0507, Ext. 31 — wants ride; commutes to 12th and Fulton, Oakland; leaves Hough Avenue and Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, 7:40 a. m.; must arrive at destination 8:30 a. m.; starts back for home 5 p. m. from 12th and Fulton, Oakland.

If you can offer a ride or want a ride, please fill out the accompanying coupon and send it to The SUN.

The SUN would appreciate hearing from commuters as to the results of their car-pooling efforts and as to their reactions to arrangements effected.

Altarinda Road Plan Disputed

County Planning Commission action on the tentative map for the first unit of Altarinda Estates has been put over until Wednesday night, Associate County Planner George Brenner announced yesterday as the commission's technical staff prepared for a forenoon conference on the problem of a proper entrance to the subdivision from Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Among those scheduled to participate in yesterday's conference were representatives of the subdivider, Altarinda Estates, Inc.; the County Highway Department and the County Flood Control District, Brenner said.

LAST WEEK consideration of the map was tentatively delayed to last Wednesday night, after the planning staff, the State Division of Highways, the County Highway Department and the Contra Costa Safety Council had all raised the question of proper access from the Freeway.

However, it was later decided to postpone action until next Wednesday night, so as to allow time for yesterday's conference.

GEORGE W. WHITNEY, chairman of the Safety Council's subdivision reviewing committee, pointed out yesterday that the proposed road for Altarinda Estates' first unit "would come into Charles Hill Road at the intersection with the Freeway."

"This intersection of Charles Hill Road and Mt. Diablo Boulevard is already a very hazardous one, what with the grading there and the heavy traffic," he said. "A third road coming in at that point would make matters worse."

DELIVERED to the commission's technical staff yesterday was a letter from the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation asking withholding of approval until a road network plan has been worked out for the entire 270 acres of Altarinda Estates.

Altarinda Estates, recently purchased from East Bay Municipal Utility District for $225,000, lies between Mt. Diablo Boulevard and the Haciendas Del Orinda subdivisions, extending northeasterly from the Catholic Church and Pine Grove upper grade school sites to Charles Hill and Honey Hill Roads.

The initial unit is planned as 32 lots averaging 150 by 210 feet in size, north of the highway and west of Charles Hill Road.

THE HIGHWAY FEDERATION letter was drafted Wednesday night at a meeting of a special committee at the home of Elliot J. Hartman at 18 Hidden Valley Road, Lafayette.

Committee members, named by the federation board last week to study a complaint of the Monte Vista Improvement Association regarding the proposed Altarinda road, are Hartman, chairman; Whitney, Dudley W. Thickens, federation secretary, and Frank Shreve, who is a member of County Road Commissiioner Victor W. Sauer's traffic engineering staff.

The letter to the Planning Commission stated:

"This has reference to tentative plan of tract 2065, Altarinda Estates, Contra Costa County.

"THESE PLANS have been studied and the actual area inspected by a field survey committee of the federation, who make the following suggestions:

"1. That a tentative roadway plan for the entire properties of Altarinda, Inc., adjoining tract 2065 on all sides, be submitted before any decision on this subdivision is made, to allow for further study to show:

"a. Connections with State Highway 75-A as situated at the present time.

"b. Connections with frontage roads of the proposed freeway improvement.

"c. Proper master planning of this entire area and interconnection of county and private roads such as Charles Hill, Honey Hill, Via Las Cruces and Via Floreado, etc., to provide a proper flow of traffic in all directions as this area becomes completely built up.

"2. IF A ROADWAY network plan is not available, that the Planning Commission insist on the preparation and presentation of such a plan, before granting this application, due to:

"a. The vital nature of the congested traffic, both in reference to adjoining county roads and existing state highway.

"b. The particular problems of adequate and proper connections with the freeway plans proposed by the state highway engineers.

"c. Excessive contour variations of the Altarinda properties."

Copies of this letter were sent to Sauer, Assistant District Engineer Albert E. Simmons, District 4, State Division of Highways; President George M. Cook of the Monte Vista Improvement Association, James G. Hupp, acting chairman of the Orinda association's Orinda Planning Committee, and George Hauerken, chairman of the Orinda Association's Road Committee.

Candidate Given Leave of Absence

So that he may campaign for the office of sheriff, Lieut. Harry A. Brown of that department was granted a leave of absence until November 15 by the County Civil Service Commission last week.

He will oppose B. W. "Dick" Richardson in the November runoff. They were nominated from a field of six June 8.

In other action, the board denied an appeal by Dolores J. Targos, clerk at the Walnut Creek Justice Court, for a promotion to senior clerk.

Moraga Shopping Center Tells of Five New Leases

The new air conditioned supermarket being erected by Donald Rheem at Moraga Center will be ready for occupancy about August 15, and will be open for business within 30 days after that.

Five other leases, including a pet shop, a children's store, a barber shop and a Union Oil station have been signed and work will be started on these buildings in the "near future," according to Edward J. Turk, Orinda certified public accountant handling negotiations for Rheem.

Construction on the service station is expected to start within 30 days.

RUMORS THAT A theater would be built soon were denied by Turk, who said that bids for the building were opened about six month ago, but that they "seemed out of line," and that construction will be held up until the other stores are started.

Turk said that negotiations were under way with Owl Drug Company, Ben Franklin and a bakery chain, but that no additional leases had been let.

Local individuals negotiating for space include Tommy Horton who is presently operating the Tommy Horton Cleaners in Orinda and the Orinda Barber Shop at the Crossroads.

ALL OTHER LEASES are from out-of-town individuals.

The shopping center is designed to serve the Rheem development in the area which consists of 1700 acres which will eventually support 1500 homes.

The development is expected to total nearly $4 million, of which the supermarket to be operated by the Clark brothers, owners of Black's Market in Orinda, is estimated at $150,000.

Field Worker for United Crusade

Mrs. Duncan C. Pell has been appointed field representative of the 1954 United Crusade in Central Contra Costa County, Alfred G. Wardley, general manager, announced today.

She has opened Crusade offices in the Highland Building, 2363 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Walnut Creek.

No stranger to United Crusading in Contra Costa County, Mrs. Pell last year assisted Noyes Collinson, director of the Berkeley Community Chest, who was on loan as 1953 staff Crusade director for Northern Alameda and Central Contra Costa counties.

SHE IS THE WIFE of Duncan C. Pell, associate broker with the Contra Costa Realty Company and member of the Walnut Creek American Legion. They live at 1591 Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Pell is former area director of the American National Red Cross in South-Eastern Los Angeles, and served as personnel and public relations training director of the San Francisco Red Cross during World War II. She is also former personnel director of I. Magnin's in Los Angeles.

Agencies in the Diablo Valley area participating in the United Crusade include White Cane, Shadelands School, Boy Scouts, YMCA, Camp Fire Girls, and Herrick Clinic in Berkeley, which serves Contra Costa County residents.

C. R. HAYDEN, Concord Crusade president, is chairman of the Contra Costa Crusade Council, which coordinates the programs of United Crusade advisory boards in Martinez, Concord and Diablo Valley.

Other council members are Duncan Knudsen, president, and Mrs. Leonard Ford, vice president of the Diablo Valley Advisory Board; Willard Knowles, president, and Roger Arnaud, vice-president of the Martinez Advisory Board.

J. H. Engelsman Aboard USS Walton

Joseph H. Engelsman, seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Engelsman of 21 Los Dedos Road, is serving aboard the escort vessel USS Walton.

Before entering the Navy in June, 1953, Engelsman graduated from Acalanes High School.

Days Are Warm, But Nights Cool

A Goat Herd? Nothing To It If You Are Vivien Duvander!

Most people, when they see a ghost, stop and take a look because they are somewhat of a rarity in these parts.

Other impressions vary, even as far as the tin-can eating school and the nanny tied to a post in the garbage dump.

Exception to this school is pretty blond Vivien Duvander, now a student at Fresno State College, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Duvander of O'Connor Drive, Lafayette.

WHEN SHE ENROLLED in FSC, after already completing work for one degree at the University of California at Davis, she took her own heard of goats with her while she studied dairy husbandry.

Here is the story.

She started collecting goats — and they've been up and down the state with her ever since — in 1951 while working in Auburn, Placer County, where she helped tend the Rio Linda Goat Ranch milking heard and show string.

SHE GOT HER animals through this ranch and left to take a job as manager of a feed lot in El Centro, Imperial County. There she was a busy girl and for nine months supervised the feeding of a herd of 200 Braham crossbreds in the lot, tending her goats after hours. The nannies seemed to thrive in the desert air, but their owner declares she was more than ready for a move when she decided to come north again.

Last year she enrolled in FSC, where she combined her classes in dairying with her knowledge of specialized agriculture. Even as a junior, she had her courses to keep her busy, plus her very productive herd of goats, plus morning and afternoon work and a weekend job to take care of the expenses of attending school.

ON WEEKENDS she takes care of feeding the school's dairy cows, both morning and evening, and every morning during the rest of the week. Her daytime job on the weekends is an assistant to Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Rambo at their boarding and training kennel and she works with them full time during her vacations.

She has evidently become a competent dog trainer, among her other accomplishments, as she has two beautiful German shepherds, both obedience trained to an almost unbelievable degree.

THE GOAT DAIRYING idea started on the Davis campus when he and another girl took over the raising of summer lambs from the school's sheep unit and used goats as a milk supply for the orphans.

Now she has nine does in her milking string, eight new kids just a few months old who were drinking approximately 10 gallons of milk a day for a while and a buck and two dry does. Her best doe regularly produces from one and one half to two gallons each day. The oldest of the females is now four and Vivien says she can expect 10 years of productive life for her charges, on the average.

HER LATEST MOVE toward improving her operations is her enrollment of the herd for testing on advanced registry and herd improvement registry. The county tester who checks the production of the school's cows also handles her goats on the same visit.

Perhaps the fitting comment, however, comes from her father. "She supplies us with plenty of goat meat, and it's wonderful stuff. The trouble is, it is not popular enough. The public should be educated."

Vivien is a graduate of Lafayette School and Acalanes High School, and is 24 years old.

Local Families Enjoy Cal Camp

Several local families have been enjoying vacations "family style" at the University of California's alumni camp, "Lair of the Golden Bear" at Pinecrest.

From Lafayette the families of Hans R. Beetz and John D. Riner, and from Orinda the Douglas Raakas and Marvin T. Bonds' were noted.

Unique features of the Pinecrest Lair include supervised childcare and campfire discussion programs at which favorite Cal professors speak informally to alumni, their families and guests.

County Workers Given Awards

Contra Costa County honored its employees who had completed 10 or more years service July 13 at 11 a.m. The Board of Supervisors with Chairman H. L. Cummings presiding, D. M. Teeter, County Administrator, and the County department heads participated in a ceremony honoring 11 employees.

Three employees of the County Road Commissioner received service awards. They are: Joe T. George, 25 years; Leo J. Norris, 20 years; and Raymond Yale, 15 years.

Two members of the County Library Department — Mrs. Bernice R. Devereau and Mrs. Elizabeth O'Mera received 20 and 15 year awards respectively.

Mrs. Grace Thomson, an employee of the County Superintendent of Schools received a 15-year award while five 10-year awards went to: Mrs. Frances Iford, Schools; Mrs. Edna Cairns and Albert Crow, Sheriff's Department; Mrs. Julia Wilson, Juvenile Hall; and E. Lee Smith, County Hospital.

Here Are Foes in 'Battle of Bugs'...

Controlling insects is an important phase of gardening because it is so necessary to the vigorous, healthy growth of plant life. To win "the battle of the bugs" it is important to know how to identify the most troublesome pests and to be able to detect their presence by the telltale evidence they leave behind.

The following information covering a few of the more common pests is supplied by Stan Hayes, Pasadena gardening authority.

APHIDS. Perhaps the most common of all garden insects. Black, green, yellow or brown. Often found in clusters.

Attack roses especially, also other flowers and vegetables. Cause curling of leaves, malformation of flowers, reduced plant vigor.

WHITEFLY. About 1/16 of an inch long, body and wings covered with a powdery white wax. Cause leaves to turn yellow and drop off. Usually found on the undersides of leaves.

LEAFHOPPER. Yellowish green to turquoise green in color. Attack flower and vegetable plants, sucking out the plant juices.

Damage revealed by white stippling (small dots) on leaves, showin destruction of cells. Leafhoppers also carry virus diseases to plants.

RED SPIDER. So small they are barely visible. Red or orange in color, they are found in clusters on the undersides of leaves, giving the appearance of paprika.

They suck the cell sap, thus destroying plant tissue. Do most damage during warmest months.

MEALYBUG. Slow-crawling insects with white waxy bodies which develop in colonies.

Excrete honeydew which attract ants and on which a sooty mild fungus grows.

THRIPS. Tiny insects only 1/25 of an inch long, causing distortion and dropping of leaves and stems.

Roses, azaleas and gladiolus particularly susceptible to this pest.

All of these are sucking insects and can be controlled with sprays containing lindane, malathon or nicotine.

Library Book Circulation Up

More Contra Costa County readers are reading more county library books than ever before in the library's history, as shown in statistical reports received monthly at county library headquarters from the 34 branches and stations in the county library system.

During the 11 months from July 1953 through May 1954, 806,836 adult and children's books and magazines were borrowed for home use, 9% more than during the same period in the fiscal year 19552-53.

A check of library card holders shows a corresponding 9% increase, with 60,042 registered borrowers in June 1954. A library card, free upon application may be used to borrow books from the other 33 branches and stations as well as in the library issuing the card. A child may have a library card as soon as he is able to write his name.

A branch and station directory, showing location and hours of every library in the system, is in process of preparation and will soon be available for distribution.

Morrish Urges Hunting Season On Does, Fawns

Kendrick B. Morrish, Orinda resident and president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, urged that does and fawns be legitimate game for hunters as well as bucks in a recent talk before the San Francisco Commonwealth Club.

Morrish is perhaps better known in hunting and fishing circles as the writer, K. M. Bradford.

"Many states have proved that the only way to keep a growing deer herd in healthy condition is to allow the shooting of bucks, does and fawns," he said.

"The California commission for many years has been trying to put this over as a state policy, but sportsmen, sportsmen's organizations and political groups rise up in alarm, not realizing that the deer which are not shot will die, in many instances, during the winter anyway."

He urged sportsmen to listen to the scientists and let them "do the managing" of fish and game, pointing out that the last 25 years has produced a "splendid" group of professionally trained biologists, foresters, conservationists and game managers.

"These men," he said, "are as fully qualified and trained as are the top industrial chemists, physicists, and electrical engineers."

Delegation to Ask For Lafayette Freeway Funds

Orinda Interchange and last year it was the Highway 40 area.

"This year we hope it'll be for Lafayette By-Pass," Hartman commenter.

Doyle said he was aware of this practice of alternating major allocations and expressed the hope that the largest portion of 1955-56 funds for Contra Costa would be expended in this area.

Hartman yesterday observed that with Orinda Interchange scheduled for well before July 1, 1955, "the full brunt of increased traffic will hit Lafayette."

"IF THE FUNDS are allocated this fall, construction of Lafayette By-Pass could possibly start next spring," he continued. "It would take a year or two before this project is completed, so that it might be 1957 at the earliest before the job is finished. Therefore it's none too soon to allocate the necessary funds this fall."

He recalled that state highway engineers have consistently stated that the plan for development of Diablo Freeway envisions Lafayette By-Pass as the next major step after Orinda Interchange, with Walnut Creek By-Pass as the third major step.

Perry said yesterday that Walnut Creek representatives were still in agreement with that prospective. He pointed out that early construction of Lafayette By-Pass, in addition to being necessary, would hasten the start of work on Walnut Creek By-Pass.

HARTMAN stated that although Orinda Interchange completion was originally scheduled for around October, 1955, Don Young, resident engineer for the State Division of Highways at the project, told the federation board last month that the job was two full working months ahead of schedule and predicted completion by next spring.

Artists to Move Mart August 1

The Artists' Market and Gallery, outlet for Bay Area artists' wares sponsored by the Outdoor Art Shows, Inc., will move into its new location in the Werness Interiors building, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, August 1.

Mrs. John Ellis, president of the non-profit civic organization which looks toward the eventual establishment of a permanent art center in the Diablo Valley, said the move will result in larger, more accessible and more artistically acclimated surroundings for the market, which features paintings and drawings, hand-woven articles, jewelry, ceramics, screen prints, sculpture and other media of artists from throughout the Bay area.

The old Artists' Market has been located at 1045 Stuart Street in Lafayette, where a removal sale of all items is now in progress daily except Monday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Opening preview night in the new location will be Sunday, August 15, from 4 to 7 p. m., with refreshments and members of the board on hand to greet viewers.

Through the cooperation of Dr. Grace Morley of the San Francisco Museum of Art, a loan from that institution's permanent collection of Matisse drawings, Cezanne lithographs, Picasso, Crosco and Diego Rivera paintings will be displayed at the Lafayette Artists' Market and Gallery, from preview night through the end of August. Approximately 24 paintings from the San Francisco Museum will be loaned.

The public is invited to attend the preview and following opening night, to visit the Market daily, except Monday, from 1 to 4 p.m. In addition to the art from the San Francisco collection, new exhibits of art forms and wares to be stocked at the Market will be on display. Mrs. Frederick Confer is chairman of the Artists' Market committee, assisted by other members of the board of Outdoor Art Shows.

Art critcis of the San Francisco and East Bay newspapers, curators of Bay Area museums and directors of art schools in the area will be special guests at the preview opening, Mrs. Confer said.

SF Portraitist To Address DAA

Thomas C. Leighton, well-known San Francisco portrait artist, will be the guest speaker for the Monday general meeting of the Diablo Art Association, according to Phyllis Chamberlain, program chairman.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Guild Hall of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, and the public is welcome to attend.

Leighton is a Canadian born artist who has a distinguished career as exhibitor and teacher and has made numerous appearances on both television and radio.

At present he is president of the Society of Western Artists. At this meeting he will demonstrate and lecture on techniques of portraiture.

Hiram Meulendyke, chairman of the "coffee gallery," urges members to bring their latest works as Leighton has offered to act as an informal critic at this time.

'Rose Marie' At Woodminster

"Rose Marie," Rudolph Friml's light opera, will be presented by the Oakland Light Opera Association at 8:30 tonight and tomorrow night at Woodminster Amphitheater in Joaquin Miller Park.

First production of this summer's Light Opera Series, "Rose Marie" is about the Northwest Mounted Police. Opening performance was given last night. The Light Opera Series is under the direction of John M. Falls.

Gertrude Walker Manager of Brown Campaign

Lieut. Harry A. Brown, candidate for sheriff, has named Mrs. Gertrude Walker of Lafayette as his campaign manager.

On leave from the sheriff's office until the November election, Brown is meeting with community leaders throughout the county to map campaign strategy and to prepare a speaking schedule.

Mrs. Walker said yesterday that Brown is in the process of organizing his campaign apparatus, with a chairman to be named for each area.

Device from Sky? A Weather Balloon

Thomas N. St. Hill, 600 Tunnel Road, Orinda, wasn't sure what the parachute and electrical equipment was that he found in his orchard at the end of Woodland Way next to Hidden Valley Tuesday, so he called The SUN.

The device turned out to be a weather recording instrument which had served its purpose of climbing into the stratosphere to relay information on weather, winds and cosmic rays, and had gently returned to the St. Hill residence by parachute.

The Sheriff's Office was notified, and they picked the instrument up and took it to the post office, which will return it to the government weather station from which it came.

"Any citizen can do the same," said Inspector Norman Wilson. "If you find one, just take it to the post office. We get about two a month to take care of."

Contractors Hear NAHB Official

Over 90 members and guests of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County attended a meeting Tuesday night to hear Andres Oddstad Jr., Regional Vice President of the National Association of Home Builders, discuss the manner of alleviating double sessions in schools caused by the influx of new residents which exceed the limitations of the school district.

Richard A. Briggs, District Director of the Federal Housing Administration and John Coplen, Assistant Chief Loan Guarantee Officer of the Veterans Administration reviewed the 1954 housing bill which would probably be enacted next week.

Oddstad explained to the contractors a program in Linda Mar on the Peninsula which has met with much success with the school boards and the home purchasers by providing schools for a sub-division on a temporary basis until the people can bond themselves for permanent schools.

This program is based upon the construction of houses without partitions which are joined by a walkway providing finger-tip school construction.

The meeting was presided over by Kermit L. Lincoln of Lafayette, president.

County School Attendance Up By Small City

Contra Costa County schools gained attendance equivalent to a small city between 1952-53 and 1953-54, County Superintendent B. O. Wilson has disclosed.

Wilson said the gain in average daily attendance was 5937, which is greater that the population of the Pleasant Hill area. Mt. Diablo Unified School District alone accounted for 2575 of the added attendance, or more than the population of Walnut Creek. (Population figures are from the 1954 State Roster.)

Attendance figures for key communities showing gains in the last year were as follows:

Mt. Diablo (elementary) — 2,132, Lafayette — 291, Walnut Creek — 405, Orinda — 211, Acalanes High — 250.

Walnut Creek photographer Ted Gurney has been awarded first prize in the "Candid Wedding" class at the Western States Professional Photographers Convention, which concluded recently in San Francisco.

This year's prize to the young Walnut Creek professional makes the second time which he walked off with first place honors. Last year he was awarded first prize in the "Men's Portrait" class. The annual convention, which this year was staged in the world famous Palace Hotel in San Francisco, brings together professional photographers from 11 western states.

Gurney, whose business is located at 1288 Main Street in Walnut Creek, served as a speaker before the convention on the "School Photography Clinic" panel with three other well known California photographers. This coming fall Gurney will shoot year book pictures for Acalanes, San Ramon, Pleasant Hill and Las Lomas High Schools.

Skywatch Needs More Watchers

Mrs. Donn Court, supervisor of Lafayette Skywatch Posts, says many volunteers are needed in order for the post to reach full operating capacity.

Mrs. Isabelle Salisbury, alternate post supervisor, says the following observers are helping get the post off to a good start:

Bob Dodd, A. W. Berney, Esther, Butch and Janice Foreman, William Curtis, Henry Laney, Dorothy Ballachey, Charles Hudson, Bernice Jones, John Ogden, Emmett Mitchell, Roger Rose and Catherine and Jesse Working.

Watchers are needed, however, from Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

WILLARD SCOTT, (left), resident manager of Earle C. Anthony, Inc., Packard distributors, witnesses the signing of the Packard franchise for the Walnut Creek and Northern Contra Costa County area by Joseph T. Lucas of J. T. Lucas Sales and Service, Walnut Creek. Joseph Lucas will handle both the Studebaker and Packard lines of cars.

J. T. Lucas Named Area Packard Dealer

Willard Scott, resident manager of Earle C. Anthony, Inc., Packard distributors, yesterday announced the appointment of Joseph T. Lucas of J. T. Lucas Sales and Service, Walnut Creek, as the new Packard dealer for the Walnut Creek and Northern Contra Costa County area.

The new Packard franchise holder has been an automotive dealer for the last 20 years, and since 1940 has been an automotive dealer in Walnut Creek. Lucas has held other dealerships in Brentwood and Byron.

Besides handling the complete line of Packard and Packard Clippers, Lucas will continue with his previously held Studebaker franchise.

In conjunction with the Packard and Studebaker lines of cars, Lucas will offer a complete paint, parts and service department, staffed by Packard factory-trained technicians, who are capable of handling automotive work for all makes of American and foreign cars.

Air Reserves Choose Posts for Emergency Duty

Members of the 9441 Air Reserve Squadron last week had a chance to express choices of active duty commands where they would be stationed for training in an emergency.

Nearly all major commands are represented in the state, many within 100 miles of Walnut Creek.

Ed James of Concord outlined the 1954-55 training program which will include such topics as public speaking, writing, conducting group discussions, military ethics and leadership.

Lt. Col. Buzz Knowelton, commander, announced that specialist training is now available with regular pay to qualified reserves. Information is available from Master Sergeant Leonard M. Kenecht, 9040 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

4-H Youngsters Ready for Fair

Contra Costa 4-H Club members have much interest in two special events, at the Contra Costa County Fair, in addition to the success of their individual exhibits entered in the junior division.

Next Friday evening, in the Horse Show arena, the greased pig scramble will determine an important question for several of them. Greased pigs will be released in the open, one for each two boys. The boy who catches a pig will be provided with his 1955 project — a pig to raise, feed and prepare for exhibition at next year's County Fair. The weight added to the animal and the price at which it is sold at auction determines the earnings of the project.

The livestock auction this year will be held Saturday afternoon, July 31, at 1 o'clock.

Club members take great interest in the pens, tables, coops and shelter for their exhibits. These they will prepare for exhibit with materials furnished by the fair management and under the direction of their adult leaders, so that their training is enhanced and credits gained in achievement.

Color Will Be Subject of Mart

"Color — A Selling Tool," will be the subject of an address at the Contra Costa Realty Mart Breakfast at 8 a.m. Monday in El Nido Rancho, Lafayette.

Bill Simpson and Jayne Chiles of William S. Simpson Company of Lafayette will present the talk. Miss Chiles did the color schemes used in several larger St. Louis real estate developments before coming to California.

The real estate board will hold a picnic from 2 p.m. at Castle Rock Park. Entertainment, baseball and dancing will be included and admission is $1.

300 Local Scouts at Camp Wolfeboro

Some 300 Boy Scouts and leaders from Mt. Diablo Council left for Camp Wolfeboro last Friday for 11 days of high adventure in the high Sierra near Ebbetts Pass.

At the same time nearly 500 will be returning from the second period in camp.

MERIDIAN DISTRICT is second in number of campers, having 83 from 10 Troops participating this period. They are as follows: Orinda Troops 200, 207, 237; Walnut Creek Troops 202, 220, 226; Lafayette Troop 219; Alamo Troop 216; Danville Troop 206; and Pleasant Hill Troop 209.

Three different arrangements are available for Scout campers at Wolfeboro, according to Ford Carr, director. Troop Camping is that done by a troop which camps with its own leadership, using all program facilities of Camp Wolfeboro with the dining hall furnishing all meals.

Provisional Camping is that in which Scouts attend without leadership. They are organized into Provisional troops under council leadership, and use program facilities and meals furnished by the council.

PIONEER CAMPING is that arrangement whereby troops furnish their own leadership, their own food and cooking equipment, do their own cooking, but use the program facilities furnished by the Council.

Reservations are still available for individual scouts, for troops in the fourth period, beginning Tuesday.

Golf Honors

A member of the Camp Sendai golf team in Japan, Chief Warrant Officer Hans H. Mehner of Orinda, received a trophy and congratulations from Major Paul H. Dupuis, commander. Mehner's mother, Mrs. Hermine Mehner, lives at 95 Acacia Drive.

Mother Has Heart Surgery, Delivers 7½ Pound Baby

By DICK OSBORN

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Leopold are justly proud this week because the birth of their second child took place under rather unusual circumstances.

Mrs. Leopold was forced to undergo an extremely delicate operation on her heart when she was one month pregnant, and the ultimate delivery of her child was a matter of concern to the family and a staff of doctors and specilists.

HOWEVER, the Leopolds, who live at 41 Rudgear Drive, Walnut Creek, are now looking back happily to the birth of a 7 pound, 5 ounce boy named Thomas Michael on July 13 at Peralta Hospital in Oakland.

Here is the story.

When Mrs. Leopold was a child she had rheumatic fever, which affected her heart in such a way that she recently had dizzy spells and found herself short of breath.

The resulting operation, in which the mitral valve of the heart is actually opened, is exceedingly delicate and quite rare in medical circles.

THIS IS THE first known case, many think, of such an operation being performed while a woman is pregnant, and having it followed by a normal delivery.

Her husband, who owns the Julien Radiator Works at 2455 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, explained it "was a pretty rough go for the last eight months."

"We had to take special precautions, such as not permitting any stair-climbing. We have a set of stairs in our home down to the rumpus room, but my wife just didn't go down there."

He helped considerably, too, because whenever company came he did the serving, stacked the dishes and generally helped out.

Doctors have assured the Leopolds that Mrs. Leopold will feel much better now that she has had the child and that she can look forward to a normal life. Her activities won't be restricted as they have been, but it is too early to tell how complete the recovery will be.

THE LEOPOLD'S other child, Dianne, 12, is quite excited about her new baby brother. She is a student at Walnut Creek Elementary School.

Dr. Joseph Sadusk, consulting physician, is extremely proud of the child. "Almost like it is his own boy," Leopold said, "and I guess he should be. It was a pretty rare thing."

Mitral stenosis, as it affected Mrs. Leopold, is caused when the mitral valve in the heart closes and insufficient blood is pumped to the lungs and brain, as well as the rest of the body.

Therapy Center Story on Radio

Central Contra Costans are urged to listen to radio station KECC at 7:30 p.m., Monday. Fifteen minutes of broadcast time has been donated by the Concord Chamber of Commerce to spotlight the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Edmund S. Barnett, president of the center's board of directors, will tell briefly the history and present operation of the rehabilitation center.

A description of the center's new building soon to be erected will be given by Harry Nakahara, architect for the new building, and Robert N. Burgess Jr., board secretary, will elaborate on building plans and progress.

Mrs. Helen G. Lum of Concord will speak on the work of the ten auxiliary units that help provide funds for the center's operation and new building, supply transportation for patients, and serve as volunteer aides.

John Baldwin Says Thank You

John F. Baldwin, Republican candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, this week thanked the many people who voted for him in the June 8 primaries.

"Through the medium of your newspaper, I would like to express my deep appreciation to the thousands of people, both Republicans and Democrats, who cast their votes for me," said Baldwin.

He added, "May I also give my deep appreciation to the hundreds of enthusiastic and sincere workers who devoted many hours to work on my behalf in the campaign."

Lester Lloyd Heads Printing Craftsmen

Recently installed as president of the San Francisco Club of the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen was Lester Lloyd of 1026 Thomson Road, Lafayette.

Lloyd, who has served on the Board of Governors of the club for the past six years, is plant superintendent of Mackenzie and Harris, Inc., of San Francisco.

During the time that he served as chairman of publications for the club, the club bulletin, "The Pi-Box," was awarded first place in an international contest of monthly club magazines.

Larmer Elected President of Chambers Group

Edward Larmer, local hardware merchant, pledged an aggressive administration following his election as charter president of the Chambers of Commerce Presidents and Managers Association of Contra Costa County July 15.

Former president of the Contra Costa Development Association, Larmer was chosen by acclamation on the formation of the new unit as were Wesley Anderson of Bethel Island, vice president; and Mrs. Russell Howard, Brentwood, secretary.

THE PRESIDENT, manager and one other member of each county chamber may affiliate with the organization, Secretary Manager Vance Perry of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce explained.

Perry served as temporary president of the new association during its organizational period.

The purpose of the group, it was explained, is to provide a means for chamber officials to discuss and resolve mutual problems and to serve as a liaison between different chambers and the development association.

COOPERATION WITH the new unit has been pledged by George Bowersox of Concord, new president of the development association.

Attended by some 25 persons, the organizational meeting was held at the Bel Isle Club restaurant on Bethel Island.

County Employee Increase Marked

Since 1950 the number of county employees has increased 39 percent, from 1243 to 1728, the Contra Costa noted today in reviewing a recent County Taxpayers' Association study by County Administrator Desmond M. Teeter.

Teh largest increase has been in the Health Department, from 46 to 119 employees. Next largest is the Planning Commission, up from 10 to 24, and Building Maintenance, from 10 to 22. All three departments have been assigned many new duties by the Board of Supervisors to meet growing county needs and problems.

Reservists Complete Summer Camp

The 332nd Transportation Group, like many reserve units from all over the West, has just completed rugged field training at the sprawling Hunter Liggett Military Reservation near King City, commanded by Colonel Warred E. Danforth of Lafayette.

Many young men discovered for the first time that outdoor living and training can be a lot of fun. They learned teamwork and how to take care of themselves in the field. Hot showers, movies and swimming and the best of food, plus an excellent Post Exchange contributed to the high morale.

BOYS FROM ALL OVER the West ate well, worked hard and had a good time. The only complaint was the extreme heat which unofficially soared to 120 degrees in the shade. There were a number of cases of heat exhaustion the first few days but the men quickly adjusted themselves to the change in climate.

One of the favorite retreats of the troops was a beautiful spot on the Naciemento River, called the Palisades. Thirty chaplains representing all religions ministered to the spiritual needs of all units at camp.

ONE OF THE FAVORITE gripes of the enlisted men, that officers enjoy special privileges didn't exist at camp. Colonels as well as privates went through a chow line with mess gear, made their own beds, picked up their own cigarette butts, and used the same showers. There were many combat veterans from World War II and Korea as well as recruits.

Members of the 332nd from this area are Colonel Warren E. Danforth, 3334 North Lucile Lane, Lafayette; Major Herman H. Parsons, 168 Arlene Drive, Walnut Creek; Major Everett E. Peterson, 10 Ellery Court, Walnut Creek, and Pvt. James B. Harbuck Jr., 3335 North Lucile Lane, Lafayette.

About our happy Country Folks

By HARRIET AINSWORTH
Guest Columnist

MINOR SENSATION ON MINER ROAD: The most talked-about lady in the vicinity currently is staying at the home of Millie and Dr. Cecil Cutting. Tall, statuesque, with flaming red hair and a costume consisting largely of blue shorts. As the Cuttings' neighbor Dr. Al Lange comments, "Isn't she glamorous? I tip my hat to her each morning and night as I drive by." Some catty souls might think she looks like a scarecrow, which she is. Saves the Cuttings' vegetable garden no end, Millie says. Yes, Dr. Cutting is a surgeon. No, this isn't the first time he's been asked that question.

SUMMER PERIPATETIC SOULS: Mary Sassone and young daughter Dana of La Cuesta just returned from visiting Mary's relatives in Ohio. They went on the "Grandmother Train." Station masters en route still think of this vehicle as the San Francisco Chief, but to travellers in the know it's the "Grandmother Train" because everybody on it now is either going to or from seeing grandma. No lurid romances in the club car; just children sophisticatedly downing cokes. Most of the route East is through dry states. Most popular mother on the train was the one who thoughfully stowed away among the dipes and crayons — a bottle of sherry.

Five children and she gets another dog, yet!

More travellers: Muriel Ray of Ranch Road has been visiting her mother's ranch in Yakima . . . Libby Brock took her five (5) children and Oliver, the dog, to Inverness for a month and liked it so well she's staying another. While there Libby has had another addition to the family: another dog, this one only eight-weeks old. What kind is the new puppy? "Inverness type," Libby replies. Seems this is an exotic combination of poodle and spaniel.

But the most travelled of Orindans this summer have never left home. I refer, in painful knowledge, to the countless brave mothers who daily Tuesday through Friday from June 15 til school starts cart their offspring to and from the Orinda Park pool for the swimming lessons. These determined and doughty souls are too numerous to chronicle by name; in this case misery certainly loves company. But when all the little mermaids and mermen finally master the "butterfly," Instructor Bob Edwards' new (to us) stroke, I guess the end will justify the means. We keep telling ourselves.

A mixture of manners, methods and means

Another worthy band of mamas, among them Gail DeWitt, Betty Slattery and Anne Brown, have been operating a morning Bible school this summer. The children act out the old sweet stories, thereby "digging" them a lot more. Understand the Episcopal minister, Rev. Charles Hill, is making a lot of headway teaching the middle-aged children, of 8-12 or so, how to act in church. Some, particularly the "full of animal spirits" boys, as we hollowly say, didn't see why they should bow their heads, or kneel, or assume other prayerful postures.

"Suppose you went over to your friend Johnny Smith's house to see him. You wouldn't open his door without knocking, brush past his mother without saying hello, would you?" queries the Rev. Hill. "Well, there are ways of being polite to God, too, when you go to visit with him." Devout attitudes at St. Stephens are much more in evidence as a result of this way of putting it, my reporters say. Give a man a horse he can ride, give a boy a reason he can understand. End of today's vespers.

That's a word I've always liked since I heard it in a Methodist college. I must look it up sometime. Ever notice the lovely sound of words like . . . vespers . . . lullaby . . . murmur . . . ? Or the portent of summer in little words like sun, sea, sky, sand?

If she'd outgrown the sweater, she's sharp!

Speaking of a horse, I know a little girl who just traded a cashmere sweater for one. This horse trader worthy of the name is Priscilla Devin, aged nine, daughter of Ray and Marian Devin of Jonas Hill Road. The horse is named "Poppy," as befits a sorrel with light mane and tail. What kind of a horse can you get for a sweater? "Well, he has four legs and can eat," says Priscilla's mother. "Poppy" is 17 years old. The sweater is light blue and now looks nice on Anne Clayton, 17, daughter of the Bill Claytons of Moraga Highway.

A trio of Orinda ladies, Lid Miles, Jean Henderson and Helen Gulick, recently attended their 20-year reunion at Mills College. This nostalgic event was celebrated by a skit, starring Orinda's own Bea Lillie, Mrs. Henderson, with narrator Mrs. Miles. The show was a travesty on college majors of '34 and what has happened to them in the meantime.

One line that stuck in the memory was something about their being "beguiled into child after child." When this reporter, an old co-ed type, inquired, "and were most of the class married after 20 years?" Lid replied firmly, "Why more Mills girls are married than Cal girls." Now, I had just happened to hear this refrain before from another Mills Orindan, Ruth Gilwee. Anybody from Cal want to discuss it further?

Through Anne Sanford of Hacienda Circle, American Field Service volunteer respesentative for this area, six very unusual visitors spent last weekend in Orinda as guests of six local families. The guests were 17-18 year old girls and two boys of the same age. They looked very much like our own alert, handsome Orinda teenagers, but these visitors were from France, Germany and Greece. They have spent the past year in the Pacific Northwest in homes of families with children of similar ages, and now the visitors are returning to New York by scenic bus tour of the country, thence to sail for their homes. They were chosen by competitive examination to come here on the state department sponsored "foreign student exchange" program. They have gone to school here one year and now can not heturn for any reason for three years. A telling answer to Iron Curtain propaganda.

And then, seeing ourselves as other see us . . .

Asked if Americans and especially Orindans were like they expected, they uniformly answered no. "We expected homes would be foam rubber and steel, for one thing," replied Christa, a pretty German lass. "We thought American boys would be rude, and we find them very polite. In fact, the only difference between American and German boys is that American boys wear short hair and long pants, while German boys wear long hair and short pants!"

Orinda will have two of these foreign students next school year. The Stanley Hudds of Las Palomas are taking a girl from Vienna into their family and the Ralph Halls of Davis Road a boy from Helsinki. There is lots more interesting dope on this program and how it could possibly affect you. Watch for it later in The SUN.

Something exciting is about to happen at the Artists' Market and Gallery at 1045 Stuart Street in Lafayette. There's a hot sale on now of jewelry, ceramics, hand-woven clothes, paintings and other items from prominent Bay Area artists. The reason for the sale is the Artists' Market is moving to a new location. In the Werness Building, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

THE NEW QUARTERS WILL BE beautiful and accessible and on August 15 there'll be a preview with interesting refreshments for everybody from 4 to 7, plus beautiful paintings and drawings by, among others, Matisse, Rivera, Roualt, Utrillo and Vlaminck, to look at. These are the real thing, loaned to us for the occasion of the opening of the new Artists' Market, by the San Francisco Museum of Art. Tell everybody and don't miss this event.

Here's a helpful household hint picked up from Dorothy Holmes. Know how you make that staple of the Orinda kitchen, instant coffee, neither too weak or too strong? Well, with the next jar, take a knife and cut off just exactly half of the tight paper topping that seals it. Dip in your teaspoon and run it under the piece of paper remaining on the jar. Measure one level teaspoon. As this column's regular proprietor says, that is all.

'Calamity Jane' Rescue Truck Arriving

A lady who can fight it out with the best of 'em, or more to the point, with the worst of 'em, is coming to Contra Costa County the first week in August.

The lady, named "Calamity Jane" by her manufacturer, Reo Motors, Inc., weighs two and a half tons and is loaded to the roof with more than 300 items of rescue equipment.

She is a rescue truck, according to George K. Burton, assistant county civil defense director, who has the facilities to remove people from any calamity, including collapsed buildings and train wrecks.

SHE WILL BE MANNED by three eight-man crews, from the County Highway Department, who will be kept on call on a 24-hour basis. The crews are already fully trained to handle any kind of disaster, according to Burton, and demonstrated their ability at recent tests at St. Mary's College.

Some of the equipment on the truck includes a 1500 pound capacity power winch, acetylene torches, pumps, gas masks, electric generators, prying bars, axes, a resuscitator, first aid equipment, ladders, shovels, shears, saws and other rescue gear.

THE VEHICLE will be stationed at CD headquarters on Arnold Industrial Highway. Cost of the $8000 vehicle and equipment was divided, federal CD authorities paying half, the state and county a quarter each.

Library Books Have 'New Look'

A "new look" in new books is seen this month in Contra Costa County Library's branches. All new books are now encased in the publishers' dust jackets and clear plastic covers.

Not only are the books more attractive in appearance, but use of these covers effects a saving both in labor costs involved in preparation of new books and in future repair costs, according to Mrs. Bertha Hellum, County librarian.

Recent books in plastic covers, now being distributed among the branch libraries, include:

"Sweet Thursday," by John Steinbeck; "A Time to Love and a Time to Die," by Erich Maria Remarque; "The Bright Sands," by Robert L. Taylor; "Mary Anne," by Daphne DuMaurier; "A Time to Laugh," by Laurence Thompson.

Also, "From the Danube to the Yalu," by General Mark Clark; "The Second Tree from the Corner," by E. B. White; "Spadework in Archaeology," by Sir Charles Leonard Woolley; "Prison and Chocolate Cake," by Mayantara Sahgal.

Foreign Students Visit Orinda, Give Impressions

By MILDRED FARRAR

"We are fortunate to have had the opportunity to get to know these outstanding young people" was the concerted opinion of Orindans who were hosts last weekend to American Field Service foreign scholarship holders. The high school students stopped here en route home to Europe after a year of study in the United States.

In addition to joining in community activities while here, the young people toured San Francisco and other points of interest throughout the Bay Area. Commenting on the things they had seen, the European students gave a variety of impressions.

"You say 'it's Greek to me' when you can't understand something," said Catherine Valsamaki of Athens, "but in my country we say, 'it's Chinese to me.' I thought San Francisco's Chinatown was fascinating. When I get home I am going to amaze my parents by using my souvenir chopsticks at dinner the first night."

GOTTFRIED EICHLER, whose home is near Basel, Switzerland, walked half way across the Golden Gate Bridge and was impressed by the engineering feat achieved by the designers of the span.

Inge Heismann of Northern Germany leads a Girl Scout troop at home. She thought the camp sites in Big Basin were "unbelievably beautiful." "I had never dreamed of trees as huge as the redwoods," she said.

Monique VanDamme who lives on the French Riviera, enjoyed San Francisco's shops and the picturesqueness of the Japanese Tea Garden in Golden Gate Park. When she was given a specimen begonia at the conservatory she fastened it in her hair with the "chic" for which women of her country are famous. Monique has been attending high school in Portland, Ore., where she reigned as May Queen this year.

CHRISTA BIANCHI, scholarship holder from Dusseldorf, Germany, thought Cinerama was "terrific." "It is hard to grasp the scope of your land, it is so enormous. Cinerama helped me to get the 'feel' of America."

Renate Tengelmann of Coblentz on the Rhine rode a cable car up Powell Street. Like Crista she thought the "little trams" were "high adventure."

While visiting with their weekend hosts the students told of their experiences in the United States and what the American Field Service program meant to them. "Now when I go home and tell my friends the Communists are not speaking the truth, they will believe me because I can say 'I saw for myself'."

COMPARING THE curriculum of European and American schools, the teenagers felt that in Europe too much time is spent studying past history to the neglect of current events and politics. In the United States, on the other hand, the schools treat the past lightly and concentrate on the present to the extent that current events and politics are not as well understood as they might be if part circumstances were used as a frame of reference

The students spoke of their "American families" with affection. All have lived in the Pacific Northwest for the past year. "We learned the American way of life by actually living it," Catherine and Christa said. "American hospitality and generosity is so wonderful I cannot talk about it without becoming emotional," Inge remarked.

Monday morning the visitors joined with 30 other scholarship holders to begin a three weeks' cross country sightseeing tour taking in Chicago, New York and Washington, D.C. As students from Finland, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Spain, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, France and Greece met at the bus depot, some who had come over on the same boat a year ago were reunited.

A spirit of international camaraderie prevailed. One Finnish girl excitedly told of having been a weekend houseguest of a Chinese Methodist minister, his wife and family of five children. "This was the highlight of my trip," she said.

DEMONSTRATING THE affection felt between the exchange students and their "American families," one American "mother" and "brother" drove up from Santa Barbara to bid "auf wiedersehn" to the German boy who had lived with them for the past year. "Parents" of the foreign students indicated the boys and girls were so completely assimilated into their American homes that parting from them at the end of a year was difficult for everyone in the family. "They not only help us to understand their countries better and return to serve as emissaries of good will in Europe but they also take a bit of our hearts back with them," said one "American mother" who has had two AFS students in her home in successive years.

Hosts to the exchange students during their stay in Orinda included Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Drew, Kirk Miles, Willis Branch, Mitchell Farrar, Ray Devin and Theodore Sanford and Mrs. George Hickok.

Mrs. Sanford is the American Field Service representative in this area. Funds are now being raised to bring three foreign students to Acalanes in September, she said.

Fribergs Back From Trip East

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Friberg of Orinda have just returned from a month's vacation trip of sightseeing and visiting Mr. Friberg's parents in Boston, Mass.

On the drive east they stopped at the Golden Feather Ranch to spend a few hours with the Frank Hights, formerly of Orinda. They learned that the Hights were happy in their new venture. They had just sent 30,000 trout to market and had received from a hachery more fingerlings and were kept quite busy feeding them in one of their two lakes. They also had 100 head of cattle in their pasture. Dee has found interest socially and made acquaintances through her membership in the local Soroptimist Club.

After this stopover, the Fribergs drove on to Rocky Mountain Park where at an altitude of 12,900 feet they were thrilled with the view of snowcapped mountains all around. At Denver they found the weather very hot and dry. Here they stored their car and then took the Zephyr to Chicago. They saw the sights there and flew on to Boston to visit Walter's parents, who were happy to see them.

While in Boston they went to Plymouth and Concord. They flew from Boston to Denver, got their car, saw Colorado Springs and went on the tour up Pike's Peak in a bus and down it on the cog rail train. It was the scenic part of their trip which they could enjoy without the worry of driving up the steep, winding slopes of the mountain. They saw the famous beautiful Brodadmoor Hotel and drove after a rest through the spectacular Royal Gorge and thence home.

Grandchildren Visit

Mrs. Carrie L. Brown is enjoying the three weeks vacation of her three grandchildren, Laurelie and Darryl Korn of Sacramento and Drexel Smith of Van Nuys. All have fun exploring the creek and swimming in the Meakin pool, as well as escaping the hotter weather of their home towns.

NO ILL WIND

When summer breezes blow our way, they seem to bring a burst of energy which is affecting many of us. Since we have been haunted by this imaginary power, there appears to be a NEW LOOK taking shape around Orinda.

For instance, you and your neighbors are either adding a room to your house, rearranging the garden, reducing a hill by the bulldozer technique, subtracting a room, painting, or doing a myriad of other odd jobs.

To cite a few examples . . . Helen and Don Hogue of Tarry Lane are installing a swimming pool, and it's a moot question as to who will enjoy it more, Don or daughter Joan who is an Acalanes High School senior.

Jack Edwards of Alta Vista has already dedicated two precious weeks of his vacation to hammering and nailing, and the end result should be a couple of new rooms.

Helen and Bob Kilpatrick are planning to move into their beautiful home situated on a hill on Dos Osis sometime this fall. Bob and Helen have done most of the building themselves. Their temporary headquarters is a charming 80 year old farmhouse which Helen has transformed into something out of this world. In the meantime, "Lefty" finds time to be an excellent sculptress.

POTLUCK

Anyone for a potluck supper? This informal type of dining out has certainly had its share of popularity lately. The Moraga Meadows Association staged one last Saturday evening at Carroll Ranch. Doris Chapman was chairman of the social committee for the event, and scuttlebut has it that this potluck was a raving success. Doris was ably assisted by Lorrie Patterson, Elsie Hallsted, Marian Ponds, Dinny Thompson, Dorothy Kline, Lucille Yriberri, Gloria Muscheid, Peggy White and Shirley Edwards.

A red and white color scheme was worked out which included checked tablecloths and red geraniums. The weather permitted SOME swimming, LOTS of eating, and many stayed on to enjoy the strains from the jukebox.

The Ray Taber home was the locale for another potluck social. Sponsoring the occasion were members of the Orinda-Lafayette Presbyterian Church who invited their friends and neighbors. Virginia Taber capably hostessed the affair solo while spouse Ray played absentee host at some faraway airport where he was waiting for a late plane.

MOUNTAIN MEANDERING

At least two families in our midst have been taking advantage of the facilities at the Berkeley Camp in Yosemite. Mary and Melvin Coldwell spent a week there with their youngsters, Susan and Billy. Apparently, mama and papa yearned for more sophisticated surroundings after their mountain outing because they concluded their vacation with a week in Los Angeles without the kiddies.

Shirley and Fred Switzer of Hillcrest took their two daughters Linda and Judy to Berkeley Camp also; and during the month of August, they intend to take off in the opposite direction for that popular city called Las Vegas.

Camping on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe a few weeks back were Marge and Andor Polgar of Glorietta Boulevard. From Marge's enthusiastic reports, one quickly realizes that they are ardent campers. Included in their itinerary were Carson City, Virginia City, Luther Pass, and the breathtaking experience of riding over Squaw Valley in a ski chair. However, an incident that they had not bargained for was an earthquake causing their tent to shake and all but collapse on their heads.

AND AWAY TO CAMP

Jack Lee, Steve DeMaria and Dave Brown have been chosen to stay at Philmont Camp in New Mexico for 35 days. They achieved this honored status chiefly through merit, and after taking their Junior Leaders training course, they will be qualified to assist the scoutmaster. Their stay at Camp Philmont will enable them to take a land survival course and take in a good deal of hiking. The grand finale to this unusual vacation will be a buffalo dinner . . . good eating, boys.

Stephen Fiske of El Toyonal has has taken his sons camping in Evolution Peaks near Fresno. Meanwhile, Ruth Fiske and their daughter, Gail, have departed for a three weeks visit to Mexico. These girls should certainly be commended for spending such a length of time in a foreign country and not speaking the native tongue.

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Brauer have recently returned from their summer home on the Russian River . . . their houseguests both here and at the river were the Joseph Hardings of Pacific Palisades.

The Vernon Louis' of Van Ripper Lane spent some time recently at the family cabin in Calaveras County. They tried their luck at trout fishing in the Mokelumne River, but the fish wanted no part of the Louis'.

Rumor has it that veteran camper Kathryn Elmore will be in the Tahoe area for the next few days. Reual and dog Skippy will be batching it.

The T. E. Louis' of Upper Happy Valley Road loaned their home and pool to the Orinda Juniors recently for a festive swim and supper party.

Covered Wagon, Built Here, On Display

A covered wagon identical to the famed Conestoga wagons used by Western pioneers in crossing the country and built by Malley's Wood Working Specialties, 3331-A Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, is being displayed throughout the Northwest and will be exhibited at the California State Fair in Sacramento later this summer.

Already the winner of a first prize at the Solano County Fair in Vallejo early this month, the Conestoga replica was constructed for California Gold Label Beer of San Francisco, which is having it exhibited at fairs in the Northwest and California.

THE WAGON IS pulled by four oxen driven by a whip-equipped driver.

"The wagon was built just ac they were in the old days," C. F. Malley, co-owner of the Lafayette wood-working firm said. "Our firm checked pioneer wagons of all types before we started to build, so as to make sure it would be exactly like the real Conestoga wagon."

Before being taken on its tour, the replica was on display at the Lafayette shop.

PARTNERS WITH Malley are Mrs. Malley and their son Jack. Another son, Charles, works with them. The family, which also includes daughters Patricia Lou and Marianna, lives at 4040 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette.

The Malleys opened their business February 8. It features construction of varied kinds of furniture and woodworking specialties.

Acalanes Valley Notes

By DOROTHEA CUMMINGS
Phone: ATlantic 3-2973

ALPS TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bert Chinn of Legion Court spent a relaxing four days in the Trinity Alps recently. Their activities included fishing and just plain loafing.

HOUSEGUESTS

The Charles O. Dulls of Acalanes Road had as their houseguests last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Merle Berry of Lynchburg, Va. The visitors, who are Charles' first cousins, are currently touring the United States.

WORK VACATION

Miss Margaret Roe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Roe of Legion Court, is home for the summer from Oregon State College. She is spending her vacation teaching handcrafts at the Stanley School under the Lafayette Recreation Program.

Margaret spent the weekend at Yosemite with a college group from the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. Also spending the weekend with the group was Russell Ellison, who was graduated from Acalanes High School this year.

When she returns to Oregon State in the fall, Margaret, who is majoring in home economics, will be a sophomore. She is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

DANCE, ANYONE?

The Acalanes Valley "Squares" celebrated their first square dancing anniversary with a social dancing party last Friday night.

The party committee, which consisted of men only, was headed by Norman Hawkins.

BEST WISHES

Mrs. Carmella Dinelli of Acalanes Road, mother of Mrs. Charles O. Dull, was honored at a party celebrating her 79th birthday two weeks ago.

Mrs. Dinelli and the guests enjoyed an authentic Italian dinner prepared by her daughter with the help of Mrs. Ernest Biasotti. . . . .

Present to wish Mrs. Dinelli a "happy birthday" were Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Reverdito of Acalanes Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dinelli of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Emile Bottino, also of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Biasotti of Acalanes Valley; Delbert Dinelli of San Francisco, and Miss Dorothy Torre, who became Mrs. Delbert Dinelli last Sunday.

RUSH JOB

Gary Greblo, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Greblo of Acalanes Road, is recovering this week from an emergency appendectomy. He was rushed to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek Sunday night.

GONE VISITING

The Norman Hawkins family motored to Grass Valley over the weekend to visit their son, Johnny, who is vacationing at the Diamond Arrow Ranch. They later went on to Reno and came home by way of Lake Tahoe.

Canyon Callings . . .

By MINUHA CANNON

PARTY TIME

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Neil and their sons Bruce and Doug entertained at a dinner party in honor of George Malvey who left the following day for boot camp in San Diego. O'Neil is famous for his delicious salads, one of which graced the dinner. In the evening beautiful slides in color were shown picturing the recent holiday enjoyed by the O'Neils at Yosemite.

Former Canyonites, Mrs. Ambrose Litten and Miss Ada Porter together with Mrs. Stanley Burpee of Canyon enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hugh Dunham last Wednesday.

We climbed the path behind Canyon School to bid adieu to Mrs. Charles Moore Thursday. Surrounded by packing boxes, she welcomed our interruption. Saturday the Moores moved to a 40 acre farm at Hayford.

On the way up we stopped to chat with the Batchelors and Michele Williams on the porch of the Williams home. This home, sheltered by Madrone trees and looking out to the evergreen-covered hillsides, has about as beautiful a setting as I have ever seen anywhere.

FOOD TALK

Sigrid Batchelor is still talking about the wonderful barbecue they enjoyed July 5 at the home of the Leon Campbells in Diablo.

Incidentally, for those of us who would like to give barbecue parties more often but find the fixings a shade on the expensive side, Sigrid has a marvelous suggestion. She marinates ordinary stew meat using a tenderizer. Try it some time.

NOISY NIGHTS

The dogs in Canyon reacted to a quiet Fourth of July by staging several barking parties during the nights about a week later disturbing the sleep of Canyonites. Our own George, whose good manners we have bragged about, embarrassed us by occasionally joining in these midnight conversations. However, with each of us agreeing to keep our own dog quiet, the disturbance has ceased.

HERE, GEORGE!

And speaking or dogs, I have often wondered what possesses people to give dogs the names they do. George came to us complete with name, but it disconcerting, to say the least, to have half a dozen men jump to attention every time I call George down at the post office. There are at least eight Georges that I know of in Canyon. The one who really delighted me shook hands with our George and said it was an honor to share his name with so noble a beast.

The Cannons had for dinner guests the other night Dr. Anthony Levy of London who is doing hormone research at the University of California and Rosalind Kenigsberg who fascinated us into the wee small hours with her account of experiences working with the Friends Service Committee in small, rural communities of Mexico from where she has recently returned.

Happy Valley Meet Not Held

Pro and con Happy Valley incorporation groups did not meet this week, as previously scheduled.

However, according to Art Bertolero a meeting may be called at any time to consider the differences of opinion.

According to Happy Valley Improvement Association President Ford Tussing, meetings were to have been held each week, but the schedule is not strict and the meetings are set up only a week in advance.

It is not known at this time whether or not there will be a meeting next week.

Shopping at home has a number of advantages. You save time, effort — and money, too.

Kennedy to Head Insurance Company

Robert L. Kennedy of 924 Colina Court, has been appointed Agent for the Allstate Insurance Company for Contra Costa County.

Before joining Allstate, he was employed by the Automobile Club of Southern California. During World War II, Kennedy served four years with the U.S. Marines and was awarded the Presdential Unit Citation and Purple Heart. He is the father of two boys.

Facts on Dope, Alcohol to Be Taught Children

To comply with the state law, trustees of the Lafayette School District recently adopted the following schedule for the insruction of pupils "in the nature of alcohol and narcotics and their effects upon the human system, as determined by science."

The effects of alcohol shall be taught in all grades, four through eight.

The effects of narcotics shall be taught in the eighth grade only.

This instruction shall be included as part of the regular science, physical education and health programs in each school.

THE SCOPE OF instruction in the effects of alcohol will be limited in the fourth grade and be expanded progressively in subsequent grades.

The nature of the instruction appropriate for each grade level and subject area shall be specified in a teacher's guide, to be prepared under the direction of the Director of Curriculum, with the approval of the superintendent.

THE RECOMMENDATIONS of the office of the County Superintendent of Schools shall be considered in the preparation of the guide.

Trustees commented, "It is the intention of this resolution in insure that the children of the Lafayette schools will have appropriate opportunities to know and understand the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the human body as determined by science.

"It is not the intention of this resolution to authorize the presentation of religious points of view regarding the legal use of alcohol.

Leo McIntyre Named to Post

Leo McIntyre, 857 Birdhaven Court, 27, is new assistant engineer for the City of Concord, it was announced last week by City Engineer F. A. Stewart.

McIntyre is a June civil engineer graduate of the University of California.

His starting salary with the city is $394 and his duties, according to Stewart, will be mainly engineering design and survey work.

Beware of Fake Solicitors Here, Chamber Warns

Unauthorized solicitors are "blossoming" in Lafayette with their usual summertime flourish, Secretary Fred Peglow of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

"We've received a number of complaints from residents about peddlers and solicitors," Peglow said.

"Some of the solicitors represent themselves as agents for magazine subscriptions. Others have various dubious stories, such as soliciting funds for a children's band.

"PEOPLE SHOULD be very cautious about subscribing to anything when approached by such a solicitor," he cautioned. "If there's the least doubt about the authenticity of the solicitor's claims, ask the solicitor to show his Lafayette Chamber of Commerce clearance.

"The Chamber of Commerce issues clearance certificates for all worthy or legitimate causes. All that's necessary is for the solicitor to appear at the chamber office, 998 Hough Avenue, fill out the necessary form and satisfy the chamber that he is bona-fide.

"IF A RESIDENT has any questions the solicitor can't answer, phone the chamber office, ATlantic 4-4407.

"Don't let the solicitor enter your home, if you're at all in doubt about him. Some of these fellows, once they get into the house are extremely persistent in their verbal efforts —and many housewives give them money just to get rid of them."

Community Club Gives Thanks for Breakfast Help

The Board of Directors of the Lafayette Community Club this week expressed thanks to Director Charles Offen and to Lowell Johnson and his group at Lafiesta Market for the fine job they did on the recent Chuck Wagon Breakfast.

"The people should know that Offen saw to it that over 600 tickets were sold and Johnson gave wonderful support with advertising and arrangements," said Secretary Mary Thompson.

"The breakfast was a fine success —one young man ate 16 hotcakes. We are looking forward to an even bigger and better affair next year," she said.

Marilyn Derry is Married

Miss Marilyn Jean Derry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Derry of 130 Camelia Lane, Walnut Creek, became Mrs. Nora Arthur Karvelis in afternoon services at Berkeley's Trinity Methodist Church July 11.

The couple is now honeymooning in Carmel and Santa Barbara and will be home to friends in Ontario, California, after August 1.

MARILYN WORE a white Chantilly lace over satin and tulle gown and a fingertip illusion net veil flowed from a circlet of lace embroidered with sequins. She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis.

Miss June Derry was maid of honor for her sister and Kappa Delta Sorority sisters of the bride were bridesmaids. They were Miss Dian Dakin of Cucamonga, Miss Barbara Gratiot of Piedmont, Miss Beverly Lewis of Piedmont and Mrs. Edward Korb of Santa Monica.

The attendants wore white embroidered polished cotton afternoon dresses of princess style. They carried deep maroon colored tuberous begonias and wore headbands of begonias.

AN ALPHA TAU Omega Fraternity brother of the benedict, Thomas Cline of Danville, was best man. Two other ATO's, Robert Hess and John Butler of Oakland, were aided in ushering duties by Sheldon Martin and Edward Korb.

Ae reception followed the ceremonyt at the home of the bride and a second will be held this Sunday at the home of Norman's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karvelis of Redlands.

Norman was graduated from John Muir High School in Pasadena and the University of California at Berkeley. He served three years in the U.S. Naval Air Corps and he is now employed as a mechanical engineer by Kaiser Steel, Fontana.

Marilyn graduated from Acalanes High School in 1952 and attended U.C. for two years.

William Hills Visit from Seattle

Staying with Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Hart, 737 Solano Drive, Lafayette, are Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hill and their son Bill.

The Hills, who came from Seattle, are Mrs. Hart's parents. They came to Lafayette to visit their grandchildren, Peggy, Barbara and Bill. They will be here about 10 days, part of which time will be spent in Santa Cruz.

Alpha Group Initates Four

New members of Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Phi Epsilon Phi Sorority initiated in recent ceremonies at Casa Orinda are Mesdames Vernon Johnson, J. Horner, Walter Klein and Glen Marsh.

President Mrs. Rudy Blazick directed the ceremony and Past National President Mrs. Francis Wyatt of the sorority who is a member of the local chapter was honored guest. Mrs. Jack Doke, chapter hostess, prepared decoration and favors for cocktails and dinner that followed.

Other members who attended were Mesdames Donald Robinson, Harry Rohrer, Dean Lenzi, Kenneth Deichler, Jack Dennis, Arthur Fleuti, John Hower, E. Kenworthy, Joe Navone, Gordon Noleroth, Andy Scott, Thomas Snow, Daniel Stucki, B. Teigland and J. Werner.

Nursery School Plans Cake Sale

The Lafayette Cooperative Nursery School will hold a cake sale at Lafiesta Market next Friday, starting at 9 a.m.

Tempting items such as cakes, pies and breads of various kinds will be on sale. Committee in charge includes Mesdames Paul Amonson, Bruce Stringer, Clarence Steding, Grant Garrison and other volunteer members.

The committee is also planning a luncheon-fashion show to be held in September, which will be open to the public.

Proceeds of both events will be use to purchase much needed equipment for the school.

TOASTING THEIR OWN HAPPINESS are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Norman Arthur Karvelis (Marilyn Jean Derry). Married in Berkeley July 11, he is from Redlands and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Derry of 130 Camelia Lane, Walnut Creek.

PATTER ON THE PARTY LINE

By PATRICIA JELTON

PLEASE EXCUSE OUR ABSENCE LATELY. We truly hope you've missed us. What happened was, from the moment the bell rang for the long recess, we discovered our time was no longer our own. Not even five minutes to pluck eyebrows. Honest, they're down to here.

All of our waking hours are now spent standing at livried attention to chauffeur ounder-driving age juveniles on their vacation activities. This is the penalty exacted for escape to the country, far from the corner drug store and the handy bus line.

BETWEEN FLIGHTS of setting up housekeeping on a mountain peak above Tahoe and a sailboat in the bay, we have had very little opportunity to observe activity of suburban socialites which we might deem of such significance worthy of barter to our local clarion in return for Children's Hospital contributions. With the exception of the following horrendous tale related to us last Saturday week by neighbor, Mrs. Andrew Robertson.

Seems about dawn the Robertson maintenance engineer, name of Gertrude, was awakened by an all-round neighborhood dog barking festival, then by a ring at the front door bell.

That red stuff . . . it's not catsup!

As she opened the door, she was faced by a nice looking young man wearing a brown hat, light brown suit, and highly polished brown shoes, quite visibly agitated.

He enquired if Mr. Robertson were astir, and when informed in the negative, took off on a run down the private road between the Robertson's and Dr. Bennett's toward the Bill Freeman's.

Gertrude having been conditioned somewhat to except the unusual, assumed a what next attitude and wended her way back to her downey. She gave the incident no more thought until a few hours later when she ambled up to the mail box for her morning paper.

There she froze in sheer, stark terror to discover the mail box and post, plus neighboring mail boxes and posts, plus the grass, shrubbery, and roadside . . . covered with blood! And as an accent motif . . . a bit of viscera hanging from the mail box

Well, as you can imagine, there was great excitement in this end of Happy Valley with the Party Line busy spreading the word and the sheriff's contingent testing the blood, and the neighborhood kids beating the bushes for bodies.

There has been a little publicity to the effect that Happy Valley folk have not been seeing eye to eye on matters of incorporation, and perhaps an occasional difference of opinion over the back fence on the relative merits of commercial fertilizer over the old-fashioned kind, but this? — oh, no — besides, what did they do with the body?

For one week no one would leave on vacation and constant checks were made with authorities, but no possible light could be shed on the mystery.

And here's the villain of the piece!

Then on the following weekend Mr. Edmund Cardin, known as Pat to his intimates, came home from Pinecrest and had this anti-climatic tale to tell. On that fated Saturday at 5 a.m. he was taking off for the back country when a large buck came barreling across the road at the Robertson-Bennett junction and collided with his automobile.

He quickly ascertained that the animal's back was broken, and his only concern was to put the creature out of it's misery. Knowing of the Robertson's hunting prowess and well-stocked arsenal, he first called there, then ran to the Freeman's ont not being able to rouse anyone, tore back to the road where he encountered Lee Scott, who ventures in to his salt mine early in order to be taking his ease when his brother slaves are battling the Tunnel Road traffic.

Ah, at last, the denoument

Lee, being a huntsman of note and living practically across the road, quickly performed the act of mercy, whereupon Pat called the Highway Patrol who took charge of the large hunk of, shall we say, venison, which apparently was filed in some spot unbeknownst to officers of the Sheriff.

-- Now we will not presume to infer anything here as to the activities of the authorities, (we will leave that sort of thing strictly to the boss), besides, what do we know of the relative hemoglobin counts of wild beasts and man?

And so the mystery of blood on the mail box in Happy Valley has been solved, and we can all go back to out petition passing and manure spreading . . . or can we?

Thought just occurred to us. Pinecrest is a rugged sort of place, isn't it?

Well, we havn't mentioned this to Mrs. Cardin, but if Mr. Cardin was going where he said he was going, why was he wearing highly polished shoes?

Almona Plans to Attend Reception

Plans for attendance at an Order of Eastern Star reception to be held August 14 in Oakland Auditorium are now being made by Almona Chapter in Walnut Creek.

Las Trampas Chapter, Order of DeMolay, led by Master Councilor Guy Jones provided a program for the last regular meeting of the local OES unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ruff served as worthy patron and worthy matron and were assisted with arrangements by Joyce French, Beth Barney, Winifred Silvia, Isobel Bryan and Esther Eggerts.

Plans Bridge Social

Plans are now being made by Pleasant Hill Intermediate School PTA for a bridge dessert to be held August 11 at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. G. Ure of Diablo View Road.

Ticket price for the event has been fixed at 7 5cents. Call Mrs. E. Jacobson at Y E4-7005.

Alex Howard to Wed Tomorrow

Alex Howard and Marilyn Joan Zavaterro will be married tomorrow in the Trinity Methodist Church in Berkeley with Rev. Peterson performing the ceremony.

Alex is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Howard, 98 Moraga Road, Lafayette and Marilyn is the daughter of Dr. Matthew Zavaterro of Berkeley.

Alex, whose friends from Acalanes High School know him as "Sandy," has just been graduated from San Francisco City College with honors. He majored in electronics and is now working for the telephone company.

A reception will be held in the church immediately after the ceremony, followed by a family reception at the Howard home.

The honeymoon destination has not been revealed, but the couple will make their home in Oakland.

NOW AT HOME IN AUBURN are justweds Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Ray (Carol Ann Grasse). Peter is the son of Rear Admiral and Mrs. H. J. Ray of Nevada City, California, and Carol is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Grasse of 2949 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

Forum Board Holds Meet

Newly elected President of the Lafayette Forum, Mrs. R. H. Lockey, called a meeting of the board at her home, 855 Sibert Court, July 12.

Although the entire board was not expected to attend because of conflicting vacations, the purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the board with committees which she has formed.

Activities were discussed which would prove both entertaining and educatioal to members during the coming year.

Further notice will be given before the first fall meeting to be held in September.

Lorentzens Go to Banff Convention

Mrs. A. P. Lorentzen of Acalanes Valley represented the Oakland Soroptimist Club at the Soroptimist Convention held recently at the Banff Spring Hotel in Banff, Canada.

Mrs. Lorentzen is the outgoing president of the Oakland chapter, which was the first Soroptimist Club. It was founded in 1921. Today there are approximately 35,000 Soroptimists in 29 different countries. At the convention, Mrs. Lorentzen presented the original Oakland charter to the Soroptimist Federation.

Approximately 700 women from the United States, Canada, Cuba, Mexico City and Brazil attended the convention.

Mrs. Lorentzen was accompanied on her trip by her husband, who enjoyed some good fishing and golfing. After the convention, the Lorentzens visited Jasper and spent two days at Glacier National Park.

On their way home from Canada, they stopped at Coeur d'Alene in Idaho. They caught so many fish they had them smoked so that they could bring them home and enjoy them later.

Debbie Dollar Is Honored

Some 20 playmates of Debbie Dollar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dollar Jr., gathered at her Saranap home yesterday afternoon for games and movies in honor of Debbie's fourth birthday.

Invited were Susan Funsten, Charlie Moore, Richard Jackson, Valerie Kimball, Marilee Meek, Jodie Wilson, Kathie Hogan, Katy Haynie, Robin Dana and Larry Townsend.

Tommy Beckett, Licia Hayden, Bruce McCormick and Debbie's little sister, Daphne, and baby brother, Stanley III.

Chris Johnson At Convention

Christine Johnson, 1098 Marguerite Court, Happy Valley, left July 7 for the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, where she represented the Eta Delta Chapter of Phi Mu at U.C.L.A. at the National Convention of Phi Mu Fraternity July 11 through 16.

She is one of several hundred delegates and members from cities and colleges all over the country who have assembled in Pasadena for six days of fraternity work and fellowship.

Chris, a graduate of Acalanes High School in 1952, is attending the University of California at Los Angeles, where she is a Theater Arts major specializing in educational radio and television. She was elected president of Eta Delta Chapter last January and is active in the Panhellenic Council and the Associated Women Student's Committees at U.C.L.A.

Mrs. Smith Appointed To Federation Post

Mrs. Wells Smith of Walnut Creek has been appointed international affairs chairman of the Federated Women's Club.

Is Bridesmaid

Janie Nodder of Walnut Creek was a bridesmaid at the recent Watsonville wedding of Delaine Lafayette Luft and Janet Elizabeth Cooper.

Wedding Season Continues

Pat Bennett Is Married

Miss Particia Charlene Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hiram Bennett of Los Alamos Court, Alamo, became Mrs. J. Rodman Powers last week in services at the Danville Presbyterian Church.

Patricia wore a gown of gossomer tulle and imported suede lace at the ceremonies presided at by the Rev. Irvine Askine.

A FITTED LACE spencer jacket was worn over a sculptured bodice and her skirt carried a cascade of yellow throated white cattleyas and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Patricia's sister, Mrs. C. D. Morris, and bridesmaids were Miss Beverly Derry, Alpha Chi Omega Sorority sister of the bride, and Mrs. K. S. Leach of Richland, Washington.

The bridesmaids were frocked in ballerina length dresses of yellow dotted Swiss and the maid of honor wore turquoise blue. They carried garden baskets filled with varigated begonias, carnations, snapdragons and gladioli.

BEST MAN WAS Robert Brilliant, Alpha Sigma Fraternity brother of the benedict, and ushers were Philipp Elwood, brother-in-law of the birdegroom and Joseph Sibelia.

Patricia is a graduate of the University of California and will teach in Oakland this fall. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Powers of Berkeley, will resume studies at U.C. this fall. He recently completed Army duty in Japan.

Miss McMurphy Is Married

Bishop George A. Miller read a formal wedding ceremony June 27 at the Lafayette Community Church to unite Marie Louise McMurphy and Jay Harold Hubbell.

The couple will make its home in Berkeley following a Carmel honeymoon.

The formal wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lobenberg of Lafayette. Lobenberg gave his sister-in-law in marriage.

THE BRIDE, the daughter of Mrs. Emma McMurphy of Blackfoot, Idaho, is a graduate of Acalanes High School with the class of '51 and is a registered unrse.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lila Hubbell of Bremerton, Washington and is a student at the University of California.

The bride wore a full length gown of nylon tulle over satin with tiered ruffles in the skirt. Her three-quarter length veil was of tulle held with a cluster of orange blossoms in the bands at the temple.

SHE CARRIED a prayer book book with orchids and stephanotis tied with ribbons.

Janet Younce Is Honored

A lingerie shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Green in Pleasant Hill last week honored Janet Younce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Younce of Walden Road, Walnut Creek.

SHE WILL BE married to Private First Class Robert Pettet Jr. who is now stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, August 8 in Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

Games were played and refreshments were served at the shower attended by Frances Young, Terry Walburg, Helen Martens, Beth Cohune, Alice Groves and Ruby French.

Pearl Ritchie, Delpha, Simmons, Evelyn Johnson, Mary Holden, Mariann Peshon, Catherine McKinley, Ann Salmon, Vera Clough, Peggy Ritchie and Edith Younce.

THE BRIDE-ELECT was graduated from San Jose State College this June. She was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority while at school.

Pettet is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pettet of Arcata and a 1953 graduate of San Jose State College.

Alumnae Group Swims, Lunches

Gamma Phi Beta alumnae of the Contra Costa area and their youngsters enjoyed a merry swimming party Tuesday at the Barrows ranch in Lafayette.

The afternoon get-together began at 2:30, and splashing and visiting went on through the afternoon. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Douglas M. Johnston of Walnut Creek, who is the vice-president and social chairman. She was assisted in arrangements by Mrs. David Stewart of Lafayette, whose home is on the Barrows ranch.

Gamma Phi alumnae will resume their monthly evening meetings in September.

Lewises Fly North

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis of 25 La Noria left Orinda Tuesday morning by plane for Seattle and Vancouver on a business and pleasure trip that will also include going to Banff and Lake Louise. While they are away Mr. Lewis' brother and wife will look after the place and the three young boys.

McKirahan Girls Tell of Life in Fairbanks, Alaska

By CLAIRE L. JEFFREY

Sally and Caroline McKirahan, daughters of John E. McKirahan of 1017 Willow Drive, Lafayette, attend classes at Fairbanks High School in Alaska.

These two teenagers look and dress like the average girls of their age in the Lafayette area. But their poise and frank outspokenness are indicative of the modern frontier town of 5771 people whence they come.

They are visiting their father and their stepmother, Ruth McKirahan, for the summer.

YOUNG PEOPLE in Alaska face problems caused by climatic conditions, isolation and lack of suitable stores. But psychological conflicts, such as cliques and snobbishness, are not present.

Sally, 15, stated: "You are expected to talk to and greet people whom you have never met, as well as those you know."

Basketball is the main student sport throughout the territory, according to the McKirahan girls.

Fairbanks High is a member of the Western Alaska Basketball League, and it won the championship for 1954. My boy friend, Denny, is a player on the team," said Sally proudly.

RECREATION FOR the teenager is extremely limited. High school dances are held once a week at the Moose Hall. On other nights they may attend one of the two motion picture theaters in town.

Main recreation for many adults is found in the saloons. Thus it is not surprising that there is a drinking problem which involves some of the high school students.

Caroline, 13, and Sally have grown to appreciate many conveniences and products which we take for granted down here. Sally said, "We consider avocados and cucumbers a rare delicacy and we must take the best care of them and utilize every part."

MILK IS 60 cents a quart. Clothing stores are few, and cheaply made clothing sells for comparatively high prices.

The sisters each receive $1 an hour as baby-sitters. This is the average teenage rate for such work in the territory.

THEY WEAR ski pants, parkas and mukluks to school. When they arrive, they change to more feminine dress. Mukluks sell for $25 a pair, and a parka may be purchased for $75.

Sometimes the pipes freeze at the girls' home, and it is impossible to take a bath for days at a time. The high school has taken care of such emergencies by permitting the students to take showers at school before classes start in the morning.

The sisters' life in Alaska has not been without adventure. Before they arrived at Fairbanks, they lived in Nome for a few months a couple of years ago. They went down to the ocean there, to watch the boats. Caroline became so engrossed in sightseeing that she did not watch her step and fell off the pier into the jetty-enclosed water.

AN INDIAN WHO happened to be standing nearby held down his leg for her to hold on to until a boat could come around and rescue her.

It was not until later that Caroline found out that several people had drowned in this same location before they could be rescued.

Not long ago the house across the street from the girls burned to the ground.

The people who owned the house were not at home at the time.

Their neighbors, seeing that they could not stop the blaze, raced inside and one by one managed to remove most of the furniture before it burned.

THE NEIGHBORS also furnished the fire victims with a temporary home.

Although Caroline is in a junior high school grade, her classes are held in the high school building.

Sally is a junior at Fairbanks High.

THERE ARE 10 boys to every girl in the school, but she prefers to spend most of her time with one special boy, Denny Krize, 17, son of a Fairbanks store onwer.

Art is Salley's favorite subject. She hopes to go to the New York Metropolitan Art School upon graduation from high school.

Such ambitions to work and live outside the territory are common among the young people in Fairbanks, the girls pointed out.

Sally and Caroline are quite concerned with the lack of youth activity leaders in their vicinity.

PERHAPS THEY are more conscious of such problems than most teenagers up there.

They both have a natural quality of leadership, which they may have received from their father, who is president of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association, the Walnut Creek Model Railroad Society and the Lafayette Orchards Improvement Association.

PLANNING WELL AHEAD ARE THESE MEMBERS of Hiedi Chapter of the Children's Home Society, who are talking over details of their Fall Fashion Show and Luncheon to be held November 17 at the Castlewood Country Club. They are Mesdames Robert H. Lockey, reservations; Griffith A. Squire, general chairman; Fred Costello, president, and Edwin C. Murray, grab-bag chairman.

Two Families Sail for Hawaii

Sailing on the Lurline for Honolulu Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Krotz, their daughter Roberta and son Douglas, of 44 Monte Vista Road, Orinda, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Selby and their daughter Elizabeth, 107 Camino Don Miguel, Orinda.

Mr. Krotz is assistant to the president of California Research Corporation and Mr. Selby is connected with Safeway Stores, Inc.

Mrs. Bohn, Son Sail to Orient

Mrs. John A. Bohn of Orinda and her son, John A. Bohn Jr., sailed recently on the American President Lines' SS President Wilson for the Orient.

At Honolulu they were to be joined by Mr. Bohn, after his visit to Guam as legal adviser to the Guam legislature.

All three will return to the United States in a couple of weeks, aboard the SS President Cleveland.

Margaret Roe Gets College Honors

Margaret Roe of Lafayette has been recognized for her outstanding scholarship by being listed on the spring term honor roll at Oregon State College.

Miss Roe, freshman in home economics, earned a grade average of 3.5 points or better on the basis of an A equaling 4 points.

Manuel Lucas' Have Houseguest

Mrs. Laura Card of Denver, Colo., recently visited her daughter, Mrs. Manuel E. Lucas, 3709 Sundale Road, Sunset Village.

She enjoyed her first trip by plane and spent three weeks here. It was her first visit to California.

She saw the sights in San Francisco and the Bay Area and spent some time with her grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Collins of Reliez Valley Road. A picture showing four generations was taken, including her great-grandson Gary.

The day before she left to return to Denver neighbors of the Lucas' held a farewell shower and luncheon for Mrs. Card.

Orinda Park Pool Nabs Coast Title in Boys' 200-Meter Freestyle Relay Event

Orinda Park Pool's 200-meter freestyle relay team for boys in the 13 and 14-year-old age group won the Pacific Coast championship in the event last weekend at the Pacific Coast Championships at Livermore.

Val Geissler, Marc Littlejohn, Smed Ambler and Dixon Farmer were the members of the victorious relay team. They received gold medals and brought home for Orinda Park's trophy case the beautiful gold cup which is a perpetual trophy and which goes each year to the championship squad.

Last year the cup was won by the Aero Swim Club of Portland. Next year? "We'll make every effort to nab it again," Park Pool Coach Bob Edwards said yesterday

THE SAN LEANDRO Relays on July 31 are the next big event for the Park Pool swimmers.

"Our swimmers are constantly improving, and I know they will make an even better showing at the San Leandro Relays than they did at the Coast Championships at Livermore," Edwards said.

MIKE KERSTEN of Orinda placed in the Coast Championships finals of the boys 8 and under backstroke championships but was disqualified because of turning over at the end of the race.

Since this is only the second time that Mike has been in a race, this is certainly excusable, Edwards pointed out.

IN THE NOVICE class, Orinda Park came out with 66 points and four meet records.

This class is where most of the team entered, all being rather new to competitive swimming.

The following Orindians placed in this class:

FREESTYLE:

Girls 10 and under, 25-meter — first, Joyce Bailey, 17.5 seconds, (record); tie for third, Susan Arrighi, Susan Barkley.

Boys 10 and under, 25-meter — fourth, Johnny Cooper; sixth, Ricky Keating.

Girls 12 and under, 50-meter — sixth, Jackie Conda.

Boys 14 and under, 50-meter — first, Dixon Farmer, 31.7, (record); third, Ed Rinne; fourth, Smed Ambler.

BACKSTROKE:

Boys 10 and under, 25-meter — first, Bob Boyle, 20.5, (record); third, Wayne Webster; sixth, Tom Kirby.

Girls 12 and under, 50-meter — third, Jackie Conda.

Boys 14 and under, 50-meter — first, Dixon Farmer, 38.1, (record); second, Marc Littlejohn; sixth, Ed Rinne.

THE TEAM IS now concentrating on its relay squads, in preparation for the San Leandro Relays.

With the return of several swimmers who have been away vacationing, Orinda Park Pool hopes to do at least as well as last year, when its team placed second at this meet.

Many Park Pool members went to Livermore to cheer for their team at the Coast Championships. Edwards expressed the hope that even more will attend the San Leandro Relays.

Rodeo Team First in WC Invitational

Highlight of a week of top play in the Walnut Creek Invitational Softball Tournament was the winning of the title by Tri-City of Rodeo who copped the final Saturday night by downing the Alameda Legion, 11-2.

Tri-City took the title behind the the pitching of Art Heasel who struck out five and gave but two bases on balls while yielding only five hits.

ALAMEDA LEGION used three hurlers to stem the tide but the two gave up 12 hits and 11 runs with but one base on balls being issued.

Roy Witt started and was relieved in the sixth with one down by Bill Darnell who in turn was relieved in the seventh with two away by Moose Mieres.

The Alameda nine did well enough in the early innings, leading 1-0 at the end of the second and it was two all at the end of the third.

THAT ENDED the scoring for Alameda, however, while Tri-City unloosed a hitting barrage to sew up the contest by scoring four in the sixth and another four in the seventh as a safety first measure.

In the consolation game, ABC Ambulance of San Leandro took the top honor by dropping Frank's Oasis of Oakland, 6-5.

Wednesday night, the Walnut Creek Park was dark with fans traveling to Pittsburg to view the County Championship games.

Tiny's Hut was the local representative Wednesday, and while they gave the local fans something to cheer about in the early innings, it all went for naught as a three-run rally by the Antioch Merchants in the fatal seventh gave Tiny's the short end of a 5-3 count.

THE MERCHANTS grabbed the lead when they scored one in the third. Both clubs tallied single runs in the fourth and then Tiny's went out in front by the fact of scoring two in the fifth, leaving the score at 3-2.

The score stayed there until the top of the seventh when the roof fell in and Antioch scored three runs on three hits and an error while Tiny's was unable to score and so went down, 5-3.

The winning pitcher was Ivan Beaudin, who whiffed seven and walked nary a man while he gave up six hits. Gene Bell, throwing for Tiny's, struck out three, yielded nine hits and gave up two walks.

Lyle Palmer of Tiny's poked out a home run in the fifth with one on and received $5 in cash, a dinner for two and a trophy for the tournament's first home run.

TUESDAY found two home games at the Walnut Creek park with Rick's Drive Inn pounding out a 12-4 win over State Farm, garnering 13 hits in the process to the losers' three.

It was only 1-0 in favor of Rick's at the end of three, but from then on it was simply too much power and class for the Farm nine.

Claude Bolender, hurling with care, copped the win, striking out 10 in the process. Bill Jagerman, the loser, had a rough night, as he didn't register a single strikeout.

IN THE OTHER GAME, Super Saver and Tri-City hooked up in a 10-inning dandy, which the Super Saver nine took by a 7-6 margin.

Harry Dunham hurled the first six and two-thirds frames for the winners with John Henson taking over with two down in the seventh. Dunham yielded eight hits and one walk, and Henson gave up two hits and a like number of walks.

Lou Mozzini went the route for the losers, giving up 10 hits and eight walks and setting down 13 via the strikeout route.

It was 6-0 in favor of Super Saver at the start of the seventh when Tri-City got back in the ball game with a vengeance as they cracked out six hits to score six runs and force the game into an extra inning.

IN THE FINAL INNING, Super Saver took the win when leftfielder Haley drew a base on balls and scored on a double off the bat of Steffani while Tri-City failed to score.

Monday saw only one game on tap as Grodins measured Forbrags 4-3. The realtors scored one in the third and two in the fourth while Grodins scored single runs in the first, fourth, fifth and sixth frames.

Les Frost was the winning hurler, striking out one, walking one and giving up seven hits. For the losers, Jack Ogden walked three, struck out four and gave up nine hits.

Plans call for the Walnut Creek Park to remain dark for the rest of this week and all of next as county play takes place in Pittsburg.

Local Marine Reserves Train

The Sixth Signal Company, USMCR, Alameda completed their roster for the second group of Marine Corps Reservists scheduled to make an amphibious landing on the Coronado Strand during their annual two-weeks summer training starting July 17. Included in the list of 81 men are 5 from Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

The local Reservists scheduled to participate in this "mock" invasion includes: Private Jerald Coakley, Private First Class Robert Ferreira, Sergeants George Granter, and Donald Ambrose and Captain Clair Harding.

These Marine Reservists will train at Coronado, California their first week, and later transfer to Camp Matthews for the remainder of the training period.

Crusade Announces Publicity Agent

Local Hard-top Driver Favored

Currently the hottest thing on the BCRA hard top circuit is Fred Lutz of Walnut Creek who will bear watching tonight at Contra Costa Stadium in the 25-lap main event.

The local veteran had a sour engine in last week's feature but will have his speedy number 32 coupe tuned up for tonight's program. Lutz was one of three drivers who were able to adjust to last week's slick track which is being groomed for a 100-lap midget program July 31.

Montague will oppose Jim Graham of San Francisco in a special grudge race tonight.

McKoy-Molina Bout to Head Legion's Walnut Creek Boxing Tomorrow Night

Johnny McKoy of Pittsburg will slug it out with Louis Molina of Santa Clara tomorrow night in the Veterans Memorial Hall, Walnut Creek, as the main event in the third of American Legion sponsored amateur bouts in Walnut Creek.

McKoy has just tied together a string of eight straight victories in his home town and is slightly favored over the Santa Clara 135 pounder.

HOWEVER, MOLINA is expected to give a good account of himself. He won the trophy as all around best fighter here in the July 10 bouts and is a Golden Gloves runner-up.

In the semi final, belting Billy Brown of the Al Moore Athletic Club in Oakland will face Bill Heinz in the 140 pound division.

Brown has won two bouts in two tries in Walnut Creek, the last one by a knockout, and Heinz is the National Guard champion.

Four other four rounders will precede the main event. Legionnaire V. A. McCall will be scorekeeper and Dr. Frank Borgnino will be attending physician.

GENERAL ADMISSION is $1 and ringside reserves are available for $1.50 at Las Palmas Hotel, Club Diablo liquor store and Voodoo Village. The bouts start at 8:30 p.m.

Co-promoter of the fights is Jimmy Cosenza, a former Golden Gloves champion who has also done professional boxing and is now coaching leather slingers at Athens Athletic Club in Oakland.

In the premliinaries, Joe Aceves of Fred Athletic Club in Oakland who has won two straight will match fistic prowess with Tannie Lee of San Francisco in the 135 pound division.

And Jimmie Rivera of Santa Clara will match blows with LeRoy Haynes of Moore Athletic Club of Oakland in a 118 pound division match.

TWO 140 POUNDERS, Jess Santoya of Phoeniz Athletic Club of Pittsburg and Charles Bookhammer of Budke Athletic Club, will clash.

And two 115 pounders, Jimmy Young of Moore Athletic Club in Oakland and Leonard Sequeira of Figueroa Athletic Club will match punches.

Floribunda Rose Lavish With Its Colorful Effects

More and more these days, exciting color-splash effect in planned landscaping is being achieved with Floribunda roses.

Hybridizers are working overtime to create new colors and types in this class of roses that each year undergo the exacting yardstick of AARS standards and thus may earn a coveted rose "Oscar" along with the hybrid teas.

The California Association of Nurserymen says that you'll likely find several of the following varieties "blooming in containers" at your nursery now:

Vogue, Ma Perkins, Goldilocks, Frensham, Masquerade, Fashion, Independence, Frolic, Embers, Pinkie,

Your Garden

Many Types of Planting Devices Give Dramatic Highlights to Garden Layout

WITH A SENSE OF GARDEN DRAMATIZATION characteristic of Westerners, more and more California gardeners are turning to planting devices as a means of highlighting trees, shrubs, vines and flower beds.

Taken literally, the term "planting devices" would be confined to raised beds, trellises, arbors, containers of all types, hanging baskets, planting barrels and any other equipment pertaining to actual planting.

However, since thin fencing, overhead lathing and the popular grape stake fences are artistically effective in the garden and do a practical service in furnishing shade, the California Association of Nurserymen believes it is fair to consider them under this heading also.

RAISED PLANTING BEDS offer practical advantages in addition to providing an excellent display setting. Frequently they make it possible to better utilize sloping areas and aid in controlling drainage.

Fine terracing effects can be achieved by having a series of raised beds on two or three levels. While they may be constructed of any number of materials, brick, masonry units and redwood are popular. Redwood is highly acceptable for many types of garden planting devices, since it is both colorful and durable.

When it comes to containers, your nurseryman likely will have redwood planting boxes and tubs, glazed pottery and metal containers and hanging baskets in a considerable array.

IF CONTAINER PLANTING is carried out to a high degree, you have the essential of the "movable garden."

Wooden tubs and planting boxes provide a particularly fine dispaly setting for specimen plantings and permit quick rearrangement of the garden.

While they may be conveniently purchased at nurseries, they also comprise an item which the home workman can manufacture. The wood can be mitred and scored to obtain design effects.

IN SEEKING individualistic containers, some gardeners have even utilized the steel end caps of commercial tanks. Since most manufacturers of tanks stamp these pieces out as separate units, they can be purchased individually.

The effect is that of a huge metal saucer, suitable for bulbs, many shrubs and rock garden subjects.

When it comes to trellises and arbors, most gardeners are no longer satisfied with just anything that will aid in supporting and training vines.

MUCH IS BEING done with lightweight woods in building both these devices and attractive fences.

Lightweight materials make it possible to secure many desirable effects, since it is a simple matter to move the pieces around and secure the most complementary spacing.

OVERHEAD LATHING, such as that used in nurseries to furnish partial shade for plants, can be attractively stained or painted and economically utilized in the garden for the same purpose and to afford a semi-sheltered patio area.

Colorful corrugated plastic sheets are being used to provide overhead shelter in many gardens also.

OF COURSE, if you are in a position to secure the services of a landscape architect, he will be able to show you a myriad of things that can be done with your garden, utilizing planting devices.

But if, like many of us, you feel such services to be beyond your means, don't hesitate to undertake the work yourself, utilizing the professional knowledge of your nurseryman in laying out raised beds, securing proper containers and making up attractive arbors, trellises and fences.

Here Are Timely Suggestions for Summer Chores

Here are a few suggestions for summer gardening offered by Stan Hayes, Pasadena garden authority:

Camellias and azaleas should be fed with special acid plant food. Mulch with peat moss so plants will not dry out. Scratch food lightly into soil.

FOR CONTINUING COLOR in the garden, set out bedding plants selected from the following list: Asters, begonias, cosmos, marigolds, petunias, zinnias.

Divide bearded iris clumps and reset. Avoid covering too deep — upper side of rhizome should be visible above soil.

For a continued green lawn, use balanced plant food at three-week intervals.

CUT BACK CARNATIONS to 6 inches of old wood so they will make bushy new growth for fall bloom. Sow primrose seed, obconica, malacoidies and English primroses in protected spot for plants to set out in October.

Continue your insect spraying during the hot weather, checking carefully especially for aphis and red spider.

4 Honor Students To Enter Stanford

Four Central Contra Costans are among the freshman students who will enter Stanford University this fall with "Honors at Entrance," President Wallace Sterling of Stanford announces.

They are Barbara Louise Bishop, 1073 Miller Drive, and Donald Barnett Rathjen, 3790 Mosswood Drive, both of Lafayette and both Acalanes High School graduates; Roberta Elaine Krotz, 44 Monte Vista Road, Orinda, also an Acalanes graduate, and Ruth Marie Collins, 140 Bolla Avenue, Walnut Creek, a graduate of St. Mary's Girls High School.

The "Honors at Entrance" designation is bestowed by Stanford on students whose high school grades average 3.8 or higher, on the basis that 4 is equivalent to an A grade. A special certificate, signed by Rixford K. Snyder, director of admissions, is sent to each honor student by the university's Committee on Registration and Academic Standing.

Strawhatters

The Strawhatters have set Saturday, July 31 as the closing date for "Small World, Small Wonder," the revue now playing nightly except Mondays at 8:30 p.m. at the Lafayette Town Hall.

The Strawhatters' current show has been assembled and directed by Elizabeth Berryhill, with music by Kathryn Phillips, Gordon Connell, and Jerome Rosen. Jeanne Taylor Herst has directed the dances.

Tickets for all remaining performances are on sale at Sherman Clay, San Francisco and Oakland, and the Straw Hat Office, 2571 Shattuck Ave., Berkeley, (BE 7-6460). The Town Hall box office (ATlantic 3-6444) is open daily except Mondays from 6 to 9 p.m.

Plane Owners, Pilots To Meet in Lafayette

Monthly dinner meeting of the Airplane Owners and Pilots Association of Contra Costa County will be held Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., at Danny Van Allen's in Lafayette.

Hibiscus Offers Tropical Beauty

Perhaps no single group of shrubs better exemplifies the exotic beauty of tropical plant life than tropical varieties of the Hibiscus. For these dashing evergreens combine bold, brilliant foliage with the most spectaculer of flowers.

They are so outstanding that many nurserymen recommend that they be planted only with their own kind, or in containers. If forced to associate with strongly constrasting shrubs, the result may prove too extreme.

Moreover, it is imperative that you consult your nurseryman regarding selections for your particular locality. For the Hibiscus, says the California Association of Nurserymen, represents a shrub group that will not permit character to be readily defined on a statewide basis.

Shrubs Add Much Beauty to Patio

Are you making the most of shrubs on your patio, deck, terrace lanai of other auxiliary living area?

Shrubs are available in California nurseries in such a diverse range of species, variety and size as to perform a tremendous number of aesthetic and functional chores in these areas, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Add to this the utility and portability of container planting, and the use of shrubs in living areas multiplies. Your nurseryman has shrubs suitable for container growth in this particular locale. This means that you can have beauty and color the year 'round.

Begonia Mildew? Easy to Remedy!

By The California Association of Nurserymen

Latest suggestions for your Garden Checklist are:

1. If tuberous begonias show signs of mildew, ask you nurseryman for one of the effective new remedies that he will have available.
2. Fertilize both tuberous begonias and fuchsias with liquid fish emulsion at frequent intervals.
3. Kill crabgrass in lawns by the application of one of the new selective crabgrass killers.
4. There is still time to set out petunias, marigolds, lobelis, snapdragons, zinnias and aster plants.

New Owners Now Operate Willy's

Willy's ice creamery at 3384 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Laverty of 1872 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek.

Laverty, formerly manager of Sprouse-Reitz on Main Street, Walnut Creek, took possession of the fountain and ice cream store Monday.

It was formerly owned by P. E. and May E. Williamson.

"There are a lot of lovely people who come to the store here," Laverty said. "We make our own ice cream and you know Willy's ice cream is famous in the county.

"The store is open from 8 a. m. to 11 p. m. seven days a week, Laverty added.

Christian Science

The practical value of the spiritual truths contained in the Bible will be brought out Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" at Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 1347 Locust Street Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

Scriptural selections to be read include Paul's advice to Timothy (II Timothy 2:15): "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read (497:3): "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life."

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (25:1): "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth."

Wise shoppers patronize hometown merchants. They save money —and they know that the hometown merchant is interested in the community.

Spotlighting the Strip

By KITTY COLE

Another new account this week, RICHIE'S ICE CREAM at 1992 N. Main in Walnut Creek. Like ROSEMARY and FREDDIE BOLOGNIA of FREDDIE'S PIZZERIA, this is run by another young couple, RUTH and JACK BAKER, who have come to our area and hope to build a reputation with the delicious home-made ice cream which is featured here. JACK gave me samples of many of the flavors, and my favorites are black raspberry and brandied peach. Now I have always been partial to black raspberry, but since I left Southern California some years ago, have been unable to find any with the true flavor until I tried this. JACK goes as far south as Fresno for some of his flavorings, so he can give his customers the very best.

RICHIE'S opens at 7 a.m. for breakfast, and serves sandwiches, etc. until 11 p.m. On these warm days one thinks of ice cream, or maybe a cold beer, go on in, they have brew, too, (whew!!).

Many of you have asked me about the "scoop" on RANCHO GRANDE I promised some time ago. Some unexpected complications are holding up the announcement. Soon's I know, you'll know.

FREDDIE'S PIZZERIA will be closed from July 26th till August 9th so that FREDDIE and ROSEMARY can have a much needed vacation. They will take their eastern visitors, ROSEMARY'S mother and two brothers to Yosemite and L. A.

Do You Like Crowded Highway?

Judging from the response to the first few weeks of the joint campaign by the Contra Costa County Commuters Association and The SUN to encourage formation of car pools and increased use of Greyhound buses, there are many commuters who are eager to share rides.

Last week The SUN published the first list of such commuters. They are from Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill. More filled-out coupons have been coming to the paper since then.

This is not surprising, of course. The daily bumper-to-bumper crawl along Mt. Diablo Boulevard, during morning and afternoon peak hours, has long been the bane of the many Central Contra Costans who work in the East Bay or San Francisco.

Obviously, one sure way of relieving this congestion is to have fewer cars on the highway. That can be accomplished if groups of commuters arrange to share rides in one another's cars and if more commuters use Greyhound buses.

Organizing of car pools is a simple procedure. Commuters leaving from the same general vicinity and bound for a common destination can work out details of pickup times and places, as well as of expenses. They can take turns using their cars.

The use of Greyhound buses can also be a major factor in alleviating the crowded condition of the highway. And, as President John E. McKirahan of the Commuters Association has pointed out, there is now more room on the commute buses because numbers of families are away from the area, on vacation.

Car pools and bus-riding have another beneficial effect—the making available, for shopping and other purposes, family cars during the day for wives of commuters.

How to organize a car pool? Just phone a commuter whose schedules and needs jibe with your own—and you'll be surprised how easily it can all be arranged.

Last week The SUN reported that "about eight out of 10 cars of commuters have only one person—the driver."

Careful re-reading of the article makes it apparent that the proportion is close to eight out of nine.

As cited in the article, a recent survey by the Orinda Association's Orinda Planning Committee found that:

1. Place of work for 87 per cent of families (among Orindans questioned) is Alameda County or San Francisco.

2. Seventy-nine per cent of the commuters drive to work in their own cars.

3. Only 9 per cent of the commuters use public transportation.

4. Only 12 per cent of the commuters are in car pools.

These percentages were obtained in a scientific-sampling distribution of 425 questionnaires on community habits and planning, with 397, or over 93 per cent, of the families returning filled-out questionnaires.

Some people may say that these figures aren't typical of the entire Central Contra Costa County area—that they're higher for Orinda than elsewhere.

Whether that's so or not, it's clear that the situation is serious enough anywhere in this area to warrant cooperative corrective steps by commuters.

So why not try riding the buses for a while, or getting together with fellow-commuters in a car pool?

You'll experience relaxation, make new friends (or renew old friendships), leave cars for daytime use of families at home—and, most important, you'll help materially in easing the traffic situation o nthe highway.

The car pool coupon appears elsewhere in this issue. If you want a ride or can give a ride, just fill it out and send it to The SUN. You may be agreeably surprised at the results.

Right now, it would be a good idea to check up on the things you need for your home. And one thing you need most of all is SAFETY.

Be Careful—the life you save may be your own!

What They Say . . .

Is Your Child Raised in a Void?

Mrs. Sidonie Gruenbarg, former director of the Child Study Association of America recently told a Mills College group that suburban youngsters live in a segregated world, limited to their own religious, racial and financial groups where they never see people earn a living.

She added that the suburban father leaves early in the morning and doesn't return until late in the evening.

The SUN wondered how suburban dwellers felt about their children growing up in such a void, an dasked them this week, "Do you think suburban living is apt to create a void in development of your children?"

And here is what they say.

"NO, I DON'T THINK so," said Mrs. Robert C. Johnson, 4 Del Valle, Orinda. "Because I think it is up to the family. If there is such a void it is up to the parents to educate their child and he should be taught that his religion and class are not the only ones.

"We intend to do so, and have friends of all religions and with different backgrounds. After all, you can keep your child quite sheltered in the city, too, and you can build prejudices there as easily as out here. Schools might be a littel more mixed, but that depends on the neighborhood and in the city in which you live . . ."

MRS. ALLAN JOHNSON, 3436 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette, said, "Oh heavens no! That is why we moved out here when our boy was 7, so he could live in a suburban atmosphere.

"He knew his classmates and the parents of his friends, and he had every opportunity to develop as he chose. We took him into town, being close, and he had the opportunity to observe metropolitan life, such as riding on streetcars. We took him to the Claremont Hotel dinner dancing when he was older, and he didn't miss anything by living out here. In fact, he's much better off."

"GOOD HEAVENS NO," agreed Mrs. H. R. Koses, 1009 Dyer Drive, Lafayette. "I think it is a wonderat all. We have a little more fresh ful situation. They are no secluded air, sunshine and leisure time. Other than that I can't see any great difference between our life and metropolitan living."

"WELL, I WOULDN'T think so," said Mrs. O. R. Krenz, 101 Van Tassel Lane, Orinda. "Our children were raised in San Francisco, but I should think this would be an ideal place to raise children. It would be a children's paradise, but not such a wonderful place for older people. It is ideal for children and young couples, but there are not many older people. I don't think you can beat the climate."

"When I look at these large cities," answered Mrs. Robert L. Duling of 178 Doris Drive, Pleasant Hill, "I think that suburban living has something to offer that the cities don't."

HOWEVER, MRS. Duling said, "The question is difficult to answer immediately — it has so many angles it is hard to develop a conclusive answer. But," she added, "we're close enough to the cities to draw from them and take advantage of their cultural offerings."

"I don't agree at all (with the child psychologist), said Mrs. Rose M. Clark of 419 Roberta Avenue, Pleasant Hill.

"I don't think they're segregated at all, because, after all, you find all types anywhere you are," She also added that she had lived both in the country and city and that she raised two step children who are now married and is now raising two of her own children.

"I'M NOT REALLY qualified to answer as I don't have any children," said Robert McCarthy of 1929 Dora Avenue, Walnut Cdeek.

"However," he continued," just from my observations of the people in this area, I might be inclined to agree with what she (the psychologist) had to say."

"I think she's (the psychologist) absolutely wrong," was the response ofsponse of H. A. Weisenhaus of 1473 Paseo Nogales Road, Walnut Creek.

"Children in the country learn to take care of themselves" he continued. "They go out and play and they have to do it by themselves with out elder parents on top of them all the time."

Navy Reserves Talk Landings

"Amphibious Landings" was the subject of the Tuesday meeting of Naval Reserve Composite Company 12-25 of Walnut Creek, in the Air Reserve Headquarters Building, Walnut Creek.

Commander Frank Ladd was chairman.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Your editorial of July 16 entitled "Back Roads in Forefront of Needs" made only small mention of the objections to some of these backroad connections by affected property owners. The truth of the matter is that in some cases the benefits are far outweighed by the disadvantages.

For instance, take the proposed Newell Avenue extension, which would connect that street with Beechwood Drive and Moraga Boulevard in Lafayette.

I agree that this would make it possible to drive between Lafayette and Walnut Creek without using Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

IT IS NOT NEEDED, however, for quick access by fire department trucks. Alarms from the Moraga Boulevard-Beechwood Drive area are answered by the main Lafayette fire station, with secondary aid coming from the new station near Rick's over Reliez Station Road.

Alarms from the western end of Newell Avenue are answered from the nearby Saranap station. Secondary help, if needed, can come from the new station near Rick's just as quickly over existing roads as it could via Reliez Station Road and the proposed new connection.

Nor is the road needed by school buses. Children living alng Newell Avenue go to entirely different schools from those attended by pupils in Lafayette.

WHAT THE NEW connection would do principally is offer an alternate route during the commute rush period to people living south of Walnut Creek. Newell, Beechwood and Moraga Boulevard are not suited to this use. They are narrow, residential streets, along which live hundreds of families with small children.

If use of these streets would give real relief to Mt. Diablo Boulevard, there would be some justification for exposing residents in the affected areas to the danger and annoyance of heavy traffic. However, since the streets are narrow, with a number of sharp curves, capacity is very limited.

The situation here is far different from the widening of Pleasant Hill Road and other streets which have always been used for through traffic. The proposed Newell Avenue extension is opposed by residents of the affected areas because it will bring the danger and annoyance of heavy commute traffic, with but minor advantage to the public.

THE TRUTH OF the matter is that our principal problem is to improve Mt. Diablo Boulevard. Only an express highway, with by-passes and overpasses, can really handle heavy rush hour traffic. Let's put all our energy to work on this, and not spoil our quiet streets.

If put to a vote, I'm sure that most people would prefer what you call "time-consuming and distance-duplicating back-tracking and the traps of cul-de-sacs" to the annoyance and danger of rush hour traffic through their residential areas.

When the highway has been improved so that it offers the quickest and best route, it will be in order to connect residential areas with backroads.

ANDREW H. YOUNG,
3338 Moraga Boulevard,
Lafayette.

Wheat Growers to Vote on Quotas

County wheat growers will vote on 1955 wheat marketing quotas today from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the California Agricultural Extension Service Office in Cowell.

All wheat producers who intend to harvest more than 15 acres of wheat for grain in 1955 are eligible to vote.

Inside Out -

Notes on an editor's vacation . . .

On the Oak Flat Road to Yosemite, stop to rinse out a thermos drained of coffee . . . try faucet on side of lodge, only to have owner rush out in exasperation . . . the faucet is the drain for the cooler overhead.

Real water faucet is on pipe fastened to nearby redwood tree . . . about five feet high so that you have to reach up to turn it on. "Why so high?" . . . don't know . . . humorous member of party suggests pipe was fastened to tree when it was smaller and just grew along with it.

At Chinese Camp historical sign reads that here a tong war was fought between Chinese gold miners . . . one tong led by Sam Yap . . . wonder if fracas started over slurs on Sam's name.

Observe this is trail taken in early days by Mark Twain and Bret Harte . . . realize for first time where Twain Harte got its name. Wonder how many tourists think of Harte and Twain as serious, sober observers of the socialogical developments of the Gold Camps . . . recall Twain's book on the trip . . . nonsense and gags . . . the Martin and Lewis of the Gold Rush.

What Sights in Yosemite!

At historic Hangman's Tree observe commercialism in rudimentary form . . . frayed rope hanging from high branch. Across road is Bret Harte's cabin . . . lesson here for subdivider — more character in small two-story cabin than thousands of central Contra Costa homes.

Winding road to Yosemite . . . at gate ranger says he knows Herman Silverman . . . must be old pin-ball player.

Down into canyon . . . try to awe wife with majesty, grandeur, etc. . . . she's looking at people. On to Mirror Lake . . . where's the lake . . . "you should have been here in the spring!" . . . wife's looking at crowds. . . . see falls, deer, bear, Three Brothers, El Capitan . . . try to feel awed myself . . . decide to settle for watching people.

Home through Merced . . . hot. Take shoes off for comfort, but can't get them on again . . . feet swollen.

Another trip to Carmel-by-the-Sea . . . nothing but sun for two days . . . on the beach all the time. A week later nose began to stop scaling . . . forehead still has oatmeal effect.

Walk through town . . . nothing but cute small cottages . . . old retired folk on the inside looking out . . . young couples on the outside looking in.

While at Carmel think, "Nice to have a dog at the beach." Four days later drive to Santa Rosa to pick out dachshund at kennels there . . . one named Christine, one Liberace . . . their father is Gorgeous George . . . this will never do . . . we take Christine, but decide to call her Ninka.

Work and Play --- Which is Which?

Home through Valley of the Moon . . . Jack London country, but can't tell a thing from the road . . . castle around here somewhere but don't see it . . . not commercialized . . . leave that to Jack London Square.

At home clean garage . . . satisfying part of vacation . . . learn something, too . . . the nearest place to dump trash is Vine Hill Dump . . . jam station wagon full and empty for 25 cents . . . a trailer load would have cost 50 cents . . . but, road to dump is knee-deep red dust . . . wash car when return.

Last stint of vacation . . . off to Lassen County after trout. First night sleep in station wagon in Feather River Canyon . . . wake up to find self on brink of cliff.

At Belden turn off on one-way dirt switch-back up the side of the canyon . . . over two hours to go 15 miles into Humbug Meadows . . . to camping spot at place called Grizzly Creek Meadows . . . start walking toward fishing stream . . . one mile . . . climb mountain side . . . three more miles . . . down mountain side . . . we are there.

Now 2 p.m., the hottest part of the afternoon . . . fish siesta time . . . manage to disturb two fish long enough to hook 'em . . . partner also disturbs two . . . his larger, so takes blue ribbon for afternoon.

Scared of hike up mountain-side and back to camp . . . leave when fish beginning to bite so as to get dinner cooked before pitch dark. Dull slugging walk . . . can't breathe, can't think, can't stop thinking about aching bones.

The Size is the Thing

Back at camp . . . little man comes bustling through bushes with story about how he and wife have caught 28 fish during day . . . we're sheepish . . . he goes back to his tent and returns with catch . . . could put them all in your hat . . . would take three or four to make one of ours . . . we go to bed exhausted, but not so sheepish.

Sleep solid 10 hours in sleeping bag . . . in the morning everything just right . . . coffee, bacon and eggs over campfire . . . decide against repeating five-mile walk . . . start down smaller meadow stream close at hand . . . first catch tiny . . . remember friend of previous evening.

On way home stop at lodge in Feather River Canyon where last year we remember they had wild burro which someone had caught in Nevada . . . ask about animal . . . now kept in isolated meadow, they say, because couldn't get along with tourists . . . never did know a wild ass that could get along in society.

Stop along highway to pick up dried manzanita branch . . . whole tree, in fact . . . partner's idea is to bring it home for his family's budgie bird.

And on the Home Scene

Home late Sunday night . . . back to work on Monday.

Find Walnut Creek bird watchers have been observing a new bird . . . but, what at first was taken for a tawny pipit has turned out to be no more than a tawdry pique.

Everyone wants to talk about pin-ball games . . . find it hard to strike up casual conversation about anything else . . . nobody wants to hear about vacation.

Find that Walnut Creek amateur boxing shows are likely to stop if crowds don't improve . . . disappointed . . . thought things were getting off to pretty good start . . . enjoyed first two shows . . . resolve to urge friends to attend this Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. at the Veterans' Hall on Locust Street.

Find also that friend Keith Pope has survived Lehi voyage. Am reminded that outcome of trip could have been forecast from the fact that Pope, while living here, resided on SOS Drive.

Tuesday night receive call from gentleman in Oakland with a real problem . . . trying to locate a Senora Perusquia of Acapulco, Mexico, who is supposedly staying with her mother, a Mrs. Conada, in Walnut Creek area.

He asks if I know Mrs. Conada . . . no. Decide to mention item in column and ask that Mrs. Conada or anyone who knows her call me at Yellowstone 4-6777.

Seems gentleman met Senora Perusquia on plane from Mexico last week and wants to get in touch with her for some reason having to do with business.

Tuesday night enjoy steak dinner and tour of new Pacific Tel and Tel installation in Walnut Creek . . . as expected, am amazed at maze of equipment.

At week's end, survey reveals Carmel suntan fading, bruised knee from fishing trip still sore, car still dirty from same trip, dog well indoctrinated into household but not house-broken as kennels said . . . vacationtime over for me.

"Our big freezer is a wonderful money saver" says Mrs. Robert E. Rudd, 140 Fallen Leaf Drive, Hillsborough, California (shown here with her two sons, Jack and Jerry)

"We started economizing on grocery bills, the day we bought our big food freezer. Stocking up on foods in large quantities, when prices are lowest, certainly pares down the expense of feeding our family. And with California's low electric rates, our freezer costs so little to run."

Gas and electricity are cheap in California

When the Rudds moved to California, they were delighted to find that their combined gas and electric bill was so low.

Their P. G. and E. bill for one month was $15.31

Where they used to live, the same amount of gas and electricity would cost $22.02

Enjoy the better living that today's modern appliances make possible. You can afford to use more of them with P. G. and E.'s low rates for gas and electricity.
